The best lawn care need not come at the expense of the customer?s health and well-being, according to the company. Similarly, they are taking measures to protect their own staff as they go about their work. Yard Busters Landscaping reassures the community that they will do their utmost to see that their customers? lawns are maintained to the highest possible standards while preserving the safety of everyone involved.

?Lawn care is a delicate matter, as many homeowners are aware,? states the company. ?Now that spring is here, it is a good time for you to have your lawn inspected by a professional service so that it receives the attention it deserves. We can make sure your lawn is both as healthy and beautiful as you wish it to be. Let us handle all those leaves and debris, while you sit back and relax. We will blow out all leaves from your beds and shrubs, rake and bag all the leaves, do a first (or final) cut for the lawn and then haul the debris away so it's not sitting out on your curb. We also do core aeration.?

The company adds, ?However, present circumstances also demand that we take extra care as we go about our business. Since the safety of our customers and employees is of paramount importance to us, you can rest assured that we are keeping a sharp watch on new developments and taking every reasonable precaution in order to minimise the risk of contact?and therefore exposure?between our staff and customers. We request that you work with us to accommodate these new measures, and we will be doing our best to ensure that you still get the excellent service you expect.?

As such, Yard Busters Landscaping will be minimizing all in-person contact as much as possible. This may mean that they will maintain a minimum distance from each other as well as their customers, and those who wish to take extra precautions are welcome to converse with the company?s personnel over the phone, email, video call or by other non-personal means in order to discuss the work they want done on their lawns. Similarly, the company encourages people to use cashless forms of payment wherever possible as cash may be a vector for viral transmission during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Notably, Yard Busters Landscaping is also having their staff wear personal protective equipment (PPE) and disinfecting their tools on a regular basis. The company?s employees have been instructed to stay home and self-quarantine if they feel ill as well, particularly if they show symptoms that are associated with COVID-19.

?It may be more of a hassle to do all this as we see to your grounds, but all of these measures are necessary to keep everyone safe,? says the company. ?We are also aware that you will not wish to see your lawn fall into disrepair because a professional service was unable to reach you. Fortunately, we are able to visit your property and do our work if we are careful.? Yard Busters Landscaping offers power raking, aeration, overseeding, top dressing and a variety of other lawn care-related services.

Their customers often leave highly positive reviews of the company as well. For instance, Joyce Kirbyson says in their 5-Star Google review that, ?This company rebuilt a paving stone patio, using existing paving stones and built a new paving stone landing by the back doorstep to match. They also built a small wood wall attached to the new landing. This was a complex job, and it was done in a professional manner. We would highly recommend this company.?
