California based consumer finance agency The Net Lender is reaching out to the wider community to announce that they are doing all they can to help people who are suffering due to the current pandemic in Florida. More information about the company and the services they offer can be found at the following link: https://www.thenetlender.com/car-title-loans-florida.

A representative for The Net Lender says, ?People were struggling enough before the pandemic started. That has only increased since the COVID-19 outbreak began to spread across the US. Every day, there are thousands of people who are struggling to make ends meet, unable to find the money for rent, an emergency doctor?s visit or even food and water to get through the day. It?s a harsh situation all around and things are only getting worse in Florida.?

As barbershops, hair and nail salons begin to reopen their doors across Florida, the state also finds its number of confirmed COVID-19 cases increasing. Florida?s Department of Health confirmed 386 additional cases of COVID-19 Monday morning, bringing the statewide total of known cases up to 40,982. There were also 14 new deaths announced, raising the statewide death toll to 1,735.

The Net Lender?s representative says, ?With nearly 41,000 confirmed cases, the people of Florida are finding their lives at a standstill. At The Net Lender, we?re doing all we can to help anyone who needs it. Finding yourself in an urgent situation without money is bad, but it?s entirely something else in the middle of a global pandemic. Traditional forms of financial aid come with many hoops to jump through and you might not want to go through all that, especially if you need the money quickly. If that?s the case, you don?t need to worry. The Net Lender is here to help you. We can help you secure the amount of money you need, when you need it.?

The company says they work hard to provide honest and fair rates for quick financial aid, and that they work with their clients to set up payment plans that will work with their incomes. In addition, the consumer finance agency asserts that they do not have any hidden fees or extra costs that will haunt their customers later. They promise to help their customers create a repayment plan that won?t leave them broke until their loan is paid off, and they have added extra measures to ensure that they can maximize the help they offer.

The Net Lender?s representative says, ?In times like these, credit scores are the last thing that you?re going to think about. That might be a problem if you want financial aid from a bank, but when you?re getting financial aid from us, you don?t need to worry about your credit score. All you need to do is use your car title as a collateral, and since you have a guarantee, you?ll find that it?s easy to get financial aid even with poor credit.? The Net Lender?s commitment to providing reliable services has allowed them to maintain an excellent reputation among their customers. On the review platform Trustpilot, The Net Lender has a rating of 8.1 out of 10, and a review here by Andy Jones reads, ?I was in desperate need of cash?I had some financial problems that I won't get into. I called around a few places and was not getting much help. Then I decided to call The Net Lender. I had a professional staff person explain the process and got the cash I needed the same day. I highly recommend this company.?
