In light of the global COVID-19 pandemic, Qik Car Title Loans Main is pleased to offer financial help in order to help people recover from the economic impact that the pandemic has caused. As noted on their website at https://qikcartitleloans.com, the company is experienced in providing customers with emergency cash assistance quickly and conveniently, and they look forward to extending their help during these difficult times.

Henry Jones, a representative for the company, says, ?The COVID-19 pandemic started almost in the blink of an eye. In such a short time, the virus has already caused damage to so many businesses and industries. Even worse, it has also already claimed many lives. Nobody saw this pandemic coming, and because of that, we were largely unable to prepare ourselves for both it and its aftermath.?

He observes that the rise of the country?s unemployment rate as well as the fall in the country?s GDP can be tied to the pandemic. In fact, the US? economy has lost 20.5 million jobs in April 2020 alone. With economic activity curtailed due to the pandemic, it is now possible that the country will fall into a recession.

Jones says, ?No one is exempt from the tragic effects of this global pandemic. Most of us are already feeling the changes and the damages brought about by COVID-19. Our company understands how hard this is for the country?s citizens, especially for workers who recently lost their jobs and small business owners who had to close down their businesses. We understand everyone?s need for fast cash has grown by a great deal in the past few months, for buying food and supplies, paying medical fees or for keeping in order to be used in cases of emergency. If you are currently looking for money to make ends meet, Qik Car Title Loans is here to provide you with financial help?easily and quickly.?

As noted in a post shared at https://www.financegab.com/loan-credit-cards/car-title-loan-is-a-good-option-for-fast-cash/, a car title cash advance is a good option for people in difficult financial situations. As the post explains, this kind of cash advance uses one?s car as the collateral, allowing them to borrow cash easily as long as they have a vehicle that they completely own. One major advantage about this option is that, despite the car in question being used as collateral, a customer can still keep and drive their car as much as they wish. In addition, unlike borrowing money from banks, they do not need a good credit score to apply for this kind of financial assistance. There is also no need to wait in long lines for a long period of time to get their applications approved, nor would they have to wait days or even weeks for the money to arrive as they would at other lenders.

Qik Car Title Loans also points out that time is of the essence when it comes to dealing with situations like the COVID-19 pandemic. It is important for one to get their money right away before it is too late. The company assures everyone that they can get their cash advance applications approved in as little as 15 minutes, following which they can get their money as fast as the next business day. Qik Car Title Loans also explains that a customer can apply for financial assistance up to the same amount of their car?s current market resale value. The company also takes pride in having flexible payment plans in order to suit each customer?s financial situation as closely as possible.

One can avail financial assistance from Qik Car Title Loans by following a few easy steps. The individual may apply through the company?s online application form or by giving the company a call through the hotline indicated on their website. Afterwards, the individual must then submit some paperwork, such as a valid ID, a driver?s license, the car title, insurance and registration as well as proof of income.

Qik Car Title Loans is ready to provide financial assistance to those who need money fast in order to meet their needs.
