Chem-Dry of Park City has explained through an article how water damage restoration can provide the assurance that a home is safe and healthy again after a water damage event. Water damage restoration is the process of bringing a particular home or property back its original condition because it was damaged by flooding caused by a natural disaster or a defect in the house structure or plumbing.

Even just a small water leak can result into mold growth that can have a serious negative impact on the health of the residents. Flooding can cause pests to take advantage of the situation and they can be a serious health threat to the family. That is why Chem-Dry of Park City follows the standards provided by two certifying bodies, the Institute of Inspection Cleaning and Restoration Certification (IICRC) and the Restoration Industry Association (RIA). More about the water damage restoration services can be gleaned from <https://carpetcleaningparkcityutah.com/our-services/water-damage-restoration.html>.

Daryl Olsen of Chem-Dry of Park City says, "We follow the standards set by the IICRC and the RIA on all water damage restoration projects. If you pride yourself on a safe and healthy home, water damage is not something to overlook. Whether a burst water heater or a leaky roof, water damage should not be ignored. The smallest of leaks can lead to mold growth and seriously impact your home's safety and your family's health.

Flooding or too much water in the home can cause a number of problems. These include the unwanted growth of mold and bacteria; degradation of the home's indoor air quality; possible emergence of cracks in the foundations of the home and possible erosion of some structural supports; structural damages that can lead to costly repair; and expensive repairs required for the flooring, carpets, furniture, and other important items in the home.

Chem-Dry of Park City also offers upholstery cleaning services. Upholstered furniture are likely to get dirty because family members will love using them. Kids and family pets can simply jump on furniture and with daily wear and usage, the upholstery can easily get an accumulation of dirt, dust mites, pollen, soil, debris, and other things that can pose a threat to the health of the home's residents. In addition, all of that dirt can make the upholstery look shabby and worn, which is why upholstery cleaning is essential for a home or even an office or business.

A professionally cleaned upholstery is assured to be really clean and to appear like its new once again. It will not just have an attractive appearance but it will also have a good smell. And the homeowner may be able to save some money in the long run because regular cleaning can extend the life of upholstered furniture. A schedule can be arranged such that Chem-Dry of Park City will clean the tile and grout of a home every 12 to 18 months, ensuring long-lasting shine and elimination of disease-causing germs.

And for homes with pets, Chem-Dry of Park City offers pet urine removal treatment. Homeowners are all too familiar with the strong odor of pet urine in carpets, rugs, and furniture. The strong stench can be really difficult to remove, which is why a professional service for pet urine removal is required.

Another important cleaning service for the home that can be provided by Chem-Dry of Park City is tile and grout cleaning. Every homeowner knows that tiles and grout can get dirty after some time. Permeable tile, grout, and stone are magnets for dust, dirt, and debris, including dirty water. What's worse is that these things can serve as breeding ground for disease-causing microorganisms. With its proprietary cleaning solutions and powerful suction equipment, Chem-Dry can get rid of all that dirt, dust, and debris and restore the previous shine and attractive appearance of the tile and grout.
