This allows the homeowner to avoid the usual sources of leaks and pooling of water under the roofing material. Silicone coatings offer a number of benefits, such as the fact that silicone is permanent and can resist the effects of UV rays and the fact that silicone provides a seamless membrane that can withstand permanent ponding water.

Naperville Roofing & Construction also offers siding installation or repair, whether cement or vinyl. Fiber cement siding offers a way to have an attractive home that is safe from accidental and environmental wear and tear. These sidings can last a lifetime, resisting rotting, cracking, termites, hail damage, and many other potential problems. Also available are vinyl sidings that are the most common choice for new construction or remodeling. Vinyl sidings can provide the attractive appearance of wood without requiring expensive and time consuming maintenance and repairs. This is because vinyl will not rot, peel, or split. And it will never need to be painted, stained, or scraped.

They also offer rainware, such as gutters, leaf guards, and gutter guards. Gutters can be fabricated on site using color-matched gutter coil to ensure a complete matching system. They can also provide leaf guards for the gutters to prevents leaves and other debris from getting into the gutters and clogging them. They also offer gutter guards like the Rhino gutter protection system. This makes use of a stainless steel micro-mesh to prevent debris from getting inside the gutter system.

Aside from roofing and gutters, Naperville Roofing & Construction also offers window repair replacement. All of their replacement windows are constructed from fully extruded virgin vinyl frames and sashes to provide both beauty and durability. These windows ensure that there would be no peeling, chipping, warping, or cracking. The color is assured not to fade and the windows will require painting or staining because the colors have been formulated right into the vinyl.
