May 22, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

As COVID-19 bans across the country begin to lift, the company gears up for a busy summer season.

Destin, Fla.- Have Travel Memories, a travel agency in Destin, FL, is pleased to announce that they have begun offering vacation property rentals again, now that the Florida vacation rental ban has been lifted.

Have Travel Memories has taken every opportunity to continue helping people make long-lasting memories during these times of isolation. They have put effort into coming up with safe, plausible vacation options, such as offering ?virtual travel? and allowing their clients to book vacation properties without down payments. As much of a joy it has been for Have Travel Memories to help their clients in unique ways during the past few months, now that the vacation rental ban has been officially lifted, they are excited to begin once again offering rental properties.

There are many rental options offered by Have Travel Memories, each one having its own set of unique benefits and attractions. For example, the Bungalo property in Sandestin, like many others, comes with a golf cart as a way to get around their 2400 acre resort. There are also properties available such as the Bay Pine Cottage, which is nestled along the Baytowne Marina, Dockside. This property is located right on the lake, enabling occupants to walk out the back door and find themselves looking upon a beautiful lake. Have Travel Memories rental properties differ in price, depending on the season and specific days chosen. Visit the Have Travel Memories website and choose the ?Vacation Rentals? tab to view rental options and prices.
