The Corporatethief Beats - Hip Hop Instrumentals, based in Lancashire, UK, has announced they are a supplier of type beats and trap beats for hip hop instrumentals. A type beat is used by underground beat makers to create instrumentals for hip hop music in a style that is similar to that of particular rap artists. Trap beats are a sub-genre of hip hop music and rap music producers usually create trap beats by using the drum samples from the Roland 808 machine. These drum sounds are then layered with more modern hip hop drum samples.

Daniel Hartnett, a spokesperson for The Corporatethief Beats, says, "Using the type beat phrase attached to specific rap artist gives the up and coming artist a familiarity with that given instrumental. If you take for example the artist Drake, a Drake type beat might be a mixture of different styles of instrumentals. Some of which would include, trap type beats, old school beat, sample beats and RNB type beats."

He continues, "If you take artists like The Migos, Gucci Mane and Future, ninety-nine per cent of the time these artists only ever rap over modern trap type beats. Then if you pick hip hop artists like 2 Pac, Biggie or Nas type beat, you will quickly understand that this is an old school or sample type beat."

There are a number of steps needed to purchase type beats from the beat store of The Corporatethief Beats. The first step is to find the beat that the customer would like to get. The customer simply has to click on the blue + icon to indicate the choice. The second step is to click on the lease license that is desired. This may be a Basic MP3, Premium wav, or Platinum tracked out lease. The third step is to click the Buy button on the right hand corner of the music player found on the right hand side. Beats can be purchased by Stripe or Paypal. Once the purchase has been completed, Freestyle Beats will send the beats to the email address the customer used when signing up. More about type beats can be found on the web page at <https://www.thecorporatethiefbeats.com/type-beat>.

It does not take long to get the beat after making the purchase. In fact, the customer will get the beat almost immediately after completion of the purchase. Whatever the type of lease license purchased from the website, the beats will be sent to the email address that the customer submitted when signing up. If it is not found in the inbox, it might be a good idea to check the spam folder.

With regards to the type beat instruments produced, they create a number of instrumentals that were inspired by the rap artists and the producers that make the beats. Some of them include a J Cole type beat, a Drake type beat, a Rick Ross type beat, a Migos type beat, a Kendrick Lamar type beat, a KiD CuDi type beat, a Weekend type beat, and many other artists.

Trap beats are purchased from the beat store in the same way that type beats are bought. Trap instrumentals are becoming more and more popular because of hip hop artists like Drake, Wiz Khalifa, Future J Cole, Rick Ross, Travis Scott, and Meek Mill. Also, the trap beats today don't sound as harsh and noisy and they once were. Furthermore, there is much more melody in current trap music. Even pop stars like Miley Cyrus and Beyonce are now singing over trap beats.

It should be noted that all trap instrumentals often have a common formula, which is that less is more. Trap music employs all sounds from the Roland 808 machine. However, most of those sounds have been changed and layered with other drum samples to give the kick and snare a more stand out sound.
