September 15, 2015 -

Carezzo Lip Balms is pleased to announce that their lip balms have passed the stringent certification process and are USDA Certified Organic. Carezzo believes their product to be the best gluten-free lip balms in the market today, as evident in the recent increase in customer reviews on Amazon.com.

The company has recently reaffirmed its longstanding commitment to produce its products using USDA certified and organic ingredients. Its lip balms are non-GMO and gluten-free. Company representative Ray spoke of Carezzo Lip Balms' recent rise in popularity on Amazon: "What makes our products special is the utmost care involved upon creating them, we make sure that we adhere to our company's commitment to use nothing but the best and safest ingredients. Our customers have been leaving great feedback on our Amazon sales page, and they appreciate how our product is gluten-free to accommodate their lifestyles. This is always a great sign, and we plan on moving further," said Ray.

Carezzo Lip Balms are made using the finest ingredients to keep lips soft and moisturized. Everything Carezzo uses in its lip balms is organic. Their products are made from beeswax, coconut oil, vitamin E, and Calendula. Lip balm enthusiasts will feel the difference almost immediately and notice how these ingredients create the best lip balm available on the market today. Coconut oil offers protection from moisture loss, while the organic beeswax forms a smooth light layer to lock in moisture. Calendula repairs dry, chapped lips. The lip balms come in vanilla, unflavored, spearmint, and raspberry flavors.

Reviews for the product on <http://www.amazon.com/The-Best-Lip-Balm-Gluten-Free/dp/B00H3J6X3O> summarize mostly great experiences from customers who tried Carezzo's lip balms for the first time. Amazon user Cheryl "absolutely loved the product." She also wrote a review that read: "I am a lip balm snob and have tried practically every lip balm out there. I love, love, love Carezzo lip balms. Great flavors, organic, gluten-free, and it goes on smooth, and not lumpy. The fact that this is gluten-free and organic makes it a great gift." She then gave the product a five-star rating.

As of this writing, the company plans to add more flavors to its current line of lip balms. More information on
