Carpet Cleaning Service After Lockdown A Must, Says SC Company

May 27, 2020 -
According to an expert cleaning company in South Carolina, carpets at home need to be cleaned professionally, especially after lockdown.

Carolina Carpet Cleaning, the Best Residential Carpet Cleaning Services in Beaufort, SC, says that having a full household during the lockdown makes carpets at home more prone to dust and other impurities. With the loosening of lockdown rules in SC, the specialist cleaning firm suggests that residents should give their carpet the deep-clean it deserves after lockdown.

As the fight against coronavirus disease or Covid-19 continues, cleanliness is more important than ever. Carpet cleaning is one essential way to protect the whole family from getting sick. It helps remove bacteria, dust, and other allergens, reducing the risk of getting sick. For those who have pets at home, carpet cleaning can save the family from the foul smell of their darling pets.

With this in mind, Carolina Carpet Cleaning, the Top Carpet Cleaners Beaufort, SC, offers a perfect cleaning carpet package for every home. They clean, sanitize, deodorize, and protect carpets.

The company employs a cleaning process that uses a carbonated cleaning solution resulting in no sticky residue left behind on carpets. It prolongs the life of the carpet, keeping its original luster, unlike traditional steam cleaning that can damage the integrity of the carpet pile. ?This amazing process does not require that your carpet be soaked with the carbonated solution. Therefore, the time for your carpet to dry is only 1 hour,? they further stated.

Carolina Carpet Cleaning offers professional services with the support of their extraordinarily skilled and dedicated team. ?We are flexible, passionate, and always deliver the best to our customers. We use the safest products for cleaning, which leaves your carpet free from elements like pet dander, dust, and so on, which might harm your health,? the company adds.

The trusted cleaning company in SC is also fully prepared to deliver carpet cleaning services for both residential and commercial customers safely and with minimal risk. Their cleaning experts adhere to strict social distancing rules and use appropriate personal protective equipment. They will continue imposing stricter health protocols on their team members to ensure the safety of all during these uncertain times.
