Duluth Chiropractor Publishes Blog Post on Whiplash Injuries

June 01, 2020

DULUTH, GA - June 01, 2020 -
Arrowhead Clinic, a chiropractor clinic in Duluth, GA, has announced that Dr. Darris Gentry, a practicing chiropractic at the clinic, has published an article on their website that presents four facts about whiplash injuries. A whiplash injury usually happens to people involved in a motor vehicle accident where their neck is violently moved backward and then forward. The result is that muscles, joints, and ligaments of the neck and upper back are overstretched. In the article titled, ?Duluth Chiropractor Unveils Four Facts About Whiplash Injuries,? Dr. Gentry discusses the various ways to get whiplash, the fact that the symptoms are not always immediate, the fact that whiplash doesn?t require much force, and the fact that chiropractors may be able to help with whiplash.

Dr. Darris Gentry explains, ?Whiplash can be a severe injury that shouldn't be taken lightly. Sometimes it can take a day or even weeks for the symptoms of whiplash to show up. That's why you should see a chiropractor after a car accident, even if you don't feel injured. It's also good to know the facts about whiplash so you'll have a better idea if you have it after being in a car accident.?

Motor vehicle accidents are not the only way that people can get a whiplash injury. While car accidents are the most common cause of whiplash injury, it may also be caused by slip and fall accidents or high impact sports, such as boxing, football, and gymnastics.

Pain in the neck and shoulders are some of the usual symptoms of whiplash, but some symptoms may not be felt immediately following the accident. It may take days or even weeks before the symptoms begin to appear. Other potential symptoms include headaches, numbness, muscle spasms, or tingling. The problem is that accident victims may feel that such symptoms are unrelated to the accident. Thus, it is important to know the symptoms of whiplash and to consult with a chiropractor immediately after the accident.

There is also the common misconception that a strong force is required for a whiplash injury to occur.

Unfortunately, that is not true. Many accident victims have experienced whiplash injuries from a car accident while driving as slow as 5 to 10 miles per hour. And the severity of the whiplash injury will depend on whether the victim was properly restrained in the car during the collision.

And finally, chiropractors may be able to help accident victims suffering from whiplash injury. The chiropractors at Arrowhead Clinic have a lot of experience in treating whiplash injuries and may help in reducing the pain and the side effects of whiplash. They also offer free consultations so that victims may know how a chiropractor may be able to help with their injuries. They will perform a thorough exam and assessment to determine which area of the cervical spine has been affected by the accident. This will be followed by a review of the patient?s medical history so that a customized treatment for the individual can be provided.

Dr. Darris Gentry has more than 20 years of experience as a practicing chiropractic. He obtained his degrees from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga and Life University. He focuses on offering treatment for neck pain, back pain, sciatica pain, and spinal trauma.

Arrowhead Clinic specializes in the provision of treatment for victims of motor vehicle accident victims. Thus, the chiropractic and medical doctors at the clinic are experts in treating injuries related to car accidents. They can also help in providing the necessary documentation of injuries, reports, and detailed narratives for the insurance companies and lawyers for the proper resolution of the car accident victim?s claim for compensation. A chiropractor can help an accident victim by checking for any spinal misalignment that may be causing pain.
