Bethalto, IL. ? Eliot Deters, owner of The Mail Box Store in Bethalto, was recently featured in a news story from Steven Harris of KMOV-TV for an exceptional act of kindness. During this time of social distancing, overnighting something to a loved one is more important than ever. When overnight shipping in Bethalto did not go as planned, Deters took it upon himself to ensure the important package was delivered safely.

As described by Harris, a man in Illinois tried to overnight some mushrooms to his sister in Missouri. However, when Deters arrived at the store the next morning, he discovered the package had not been picked up as scheduled. Without hesitation, Deters took it upon himself to drive the package from Bethalto, IL, all the way to Kansas City, MO to make the delivery.

This random act of kindness by Deters was not only greatly appreciated by the family he helped, but it also helped to highlight his values as both a member of his community and a local business owner. The Mail Box Store in Bethalto values its customers as top priority and always strives to provide the best service possible. Making the decision to go above and beyond in this situation was a simple one, according to Deters.

The Mail Box Store is family owned and operated, offering a variety of services including shipping services and office supplies in Bethalto. For more information about The Mail Box Store, give them a call at (618) 377-6245 or visit their website www.themailboxstore.net.
