Sands Insurance Agency has recently announced that they are now offering more home insurance solutions than ever before. Part of this is due to the flexibility that being an independent insurance agency gives to them. They can search through several different insurance providers to find out which ones are willing to give them the best deal for the types of coverages that their clients are seeking.

Scott Sands, the agency owner, had this to say, "Without a doubt, you will find few insurance agencies that search as thoroughly as we do to find our customers the best rates. This is the very reason why I chose to be an independent insurance agent. This gives us a big advantage over those insurance agencies that have strict home insurance premium rates dictated to them by their parent insurance company. I will take the time to look at even the most obscure home insurance offerings that we have to get my customers the best rates for the coverage amounts that they are looking for."

The agency owner added that he fully realizes that home insurance is not a one size fits all product and never will be. That is why he is very happy that he can help his customers do their insurance shopping the way that he does. It allows him to custom fit policies to his customers' own home insurance needs without them having to break the bank to get it. He recommends that customers get home insurance that also covers its contents such as furniture, clothing, electronics, appliances, and personal belongings. In addition, he says that it should also cover other buildings and structures on the property. Sands also advises his clients to get home insurance coverage that allows for additional expenses such as moving out during a repair and also includes liability coverage for accidents that occur on the property.

Those that have purchased homeowner policies from this agency have been very satisfied with the effort that they have gotten from Sands Insurance. Here are two reviews that have been taken from their Google Maps

Business Listing that back that statement up. Andrew Aanonson writes, "When no one could find me a good rate, I found Scott and he saved me $350 annually on my homeowner's insurance. I seriously shopped every insurance company on this continent and couldn't find the premium and coverage that Scott was able to." Justin Niichel had this to say in his review, "Great rates.... Took the time to explain options and wasn't pushy at all... Tailored my policies to fit what I needed."

The agency owner says that they offer many other types of insurance besides home insurance too. This includes auto, health, renter's, life, crop, and commercial insurances. They also offer catch-all policies such as their popular umbrella insurance coverage. Scott says that his insurance agency has also gone to great lengths to improve their Facebook site. It now features much more information on his agency and its services than it previously had. He says that the biggest improvement that has been made to their Facebook site is the high number of informational blogs that are now being posted on it. They include both insurance-related topics and posts that give other useful information to the agency's customers. These include such blog articles as "Renting Your Home? Protect Your Belongings with Renters Insurance?", "What You Need to Know About Uninsured Motorist Coverage?", "15 Spring Home Maintenance Musts?", and "Getting In On The Ground Floor: Hottest Collectible Cars To Buy And Hold?". The agency owner says they are also posting more blogs that are related to current events. A good example of this is articles like "Car Care and Maintenance During the Coronavirus Pandemic?" and "8 DIY Projects to Tackle While You Shelter in Place?" which center on the recent virus crisis that's sweeping the nation.
