CHARLOTTE, NC ? Piedmont Security Systems, a provider of commercial security products and services in the Charlotte area since 1999, announced today that it has launched a new website, <http://pssnc.com>, which provides extensive information and guidance on security. The site contains in-depth content discussing how to select the right security camera, alarm, access control system, fire systems, and more.

?We are big believers in the value of a well-informed customer,? said Tom Caune, Owner of Piedmont Security Systems. ?Our success has come from helping our clients understand their best options for security ? on a particular budget. We published the new site to explain what to look for in a given security scenario.?

For security cameras, the site describes how image clarity is one of the most important features. In this case, according to the site, High Definition (HD) security cameras are the clear choice. ?With an HD camera, you can see what?s happening in real time and never miss a moment with continuous recording,? Caune added. The site also notes that clients can use a smartphone to view live streaming video from a security camera while away from a business. The site also explores the advantages of access control. Piedmont enables access control system users to customize access control by employee, event, schedule, time of day, and many other categories. The system they offer are easy to use and integrate with other security systems.

Piedmont Security Systems is a full service company. It is an OEM manufacturer, so all of its systems are custom. Piedmont provides professional installation; they are not a wholesaler of equipment, and they are exclusively commercial. Unlike residential security firms that focus on alarms and may do some commercial camera systems, cameras and access control systems are a specialty of Piedmont's.

Piedmont Security Systems started in 1999 with a single ad in the phone book. Today it has grown to three separate companies with a unified goal of bringing the best in Charlotte security services. Caune has spent his life in the security industry with a background in law enforcement, corporate loss prevention, and private investigation. His unique background gives him a multi-faceted perspective on safety and security and creates the foundation for the company. Piedmont Security Systems works to create dynamic security solutions with top of the line technology and easy navigation.

Piedmont Security Systems services hundreds of accounts nationwide. For more information, visit <http://pssnc.com>.
