June 15, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Elmsford, NY based Lincoln White Plains is pleased to announce that they have updated their Lincoln Navigator lease deals for the month of June, 2020. As business restrictions have lifted and the showroom is now open to the public once more, customers are welcome to stop by in order to explore the beauty of the 2020 Lincoln Navigator that could be the next vehicle they take on the road.

The 2020 Lincoln Navigator may currently be leased for $899 per month (for 36 months), with $6,139 due at signing. All factory rebates have been applied here, and customers should know that the lease enables $32,364 in total payments. There is also a $58,776 purchase option. This represents an extremely attractive deal for a 7-8 seater luxury SUV that has a starting MSRP of $76,185. Given that the Lincoln Navigator is a luxury SUV, a great deal of attention has been paid to the its interior. Careful attention to detail by the vehicle's engineers has led to the 2020 Lincoln Navigator supporting an extensive array of amenities designed almost exclusively to ensure a comfortable ride for both the SUV's driver and passengers. The rest of the interior's focus shares one priority in common with the SUV's exterior: a timeless respect for style. Inside or out, whether parked at home or on the road, the Lincoln Navigator is built to turn heads and drop jaws.

Lincoln White Plains serves an exclusive clientele who both want to be seen driving the best and understand the value of owning a vehicle that responds to their every desire. The dealership caters to a variety of personalities in their day-to-day operations, and they believe that there is a Lincoln for every situation. At the moment, however, they assert that few customers would look back once they had a taste of the 2020 Lincoln Navigator.

Notably, the dealership recognizes that current circumstances may make customers hesitate to visit the showroom in order to see the vehicle for themselves. Fortunately, they have kept up to date with all safe social distancing and cleaning guidelines issued by health authorities, and this has allowed them to maintain a reasonably safe environment for both their staff and customers. Should a customer decide to stop by, for instance, the only drawback they may notice is that certain space restrictions now apply in the showroom's waiting areas. However, this does not mean that they need to make an appointment before they visit Lincoln White Plains. The dealership is ready to welcome any customer at any time.

Whether there is a pandemic or other crisis at hand, the staff at Lincoln White Plains strive to maintain a high standard of customer service. This means that they pay attention to each individual customer's requirements, and this practice allows them to make targeted recommendations regarding a vehicle as well as the trim that would suit them the best. As such, the online reviews that the dealership receives are a testament to how successful they are with their customers.

David E. writes in their 5-Star Google review, "Lincoln White Plains is the very best in every way. For me, it starts with their sales team, William Mercado and Jay Reyes (General Sales Manager). William and Jay have been personally assisting us in securing the best deal(s) possible on our last five MKX/Nautilus. We couldn't be happier with their knowledge and expertise of these vehicles, and also their ability to anticipate our needs, wants and desires when it comes to leasing a new vehicle! I highly recommend White Plains Lincoln when you are in the market for a new car, and please make sure you ask for William Mercado."

In addition to the dealership's website (through which a test drive may be scheduled), customers may learn more about the 2020 Lincoln Navigator and its associated lease offers by directing their inquiries to Andy Gorran of Lincoln White Plains.
