

ACP Painting: Helping the Community Get Through The COVID Crisis

June 16, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

ACP Painting, a Maricopa, Arizona based painting service, was recently contacted about sponsoring photo shoots for graduating high school seniors, and they did not hesitate to respond. ACP Painting paid for the photoshoots of five high school seniors. With the COVID-19 pandemic, most students across the country were not able to have the typical graduation experience. A ban on public gatherings means no ceremony or celebration for the graduating seniors which, for many of them, was a major disappointment. ACP's decision to sponsor their photography session was a way to try and bring positivity to an otherwise disappointing situation.

Russ Byers, co-founder of ACP, says, "This was a small thing for us to do but it had such a big impact on these kids. They now have a beautiful, lifelong reminder of their accomplishment and this first step into adulthood. Big thanks to Victor Moreno Photography for creating this opportunity!"

ACP was founded in 2005 by Rob and Russ Byers, both of whom are United States Army veterans. The company provides professional painting services to both residential and commercial clients in the Southern Phoenix metro area, which includes the cities of Ahwatukee, Chandler, Gilbert and Tempe. The ACP Painting crew are all skilled tradesmen with years of experience in quality craftsmanship delivered with honesty and integrity. They share an uncompromised work ethic that often exceeds the expectations of their clients. From the company's first contact with a client, they are professional and respectful. They actively listen to and answer any questions the client may have.

"Our goal is to create long term customer relationships," the company says. "That's why we make sure you receive the courtesy, respect and the outstanding results that you deserve. We know that your time is valuable, so we answer the phones when you call and are always on time for any appointments or scheduled calls or meetings. Whether you have a custom home, commercial property, or industrial project, ACP is the right choice for you! We will be the most professional painter you've ever used. ACP brings you true commitment and the most pleasant and professional experience. The ACP Painting team goes above and beyond your expectations because we are dedicated to giving you the highest level of service to ensure your satisfaction. Once you have experienced our outstanding service and enthusiastic attitude, we know you'll join the long list of lifetime ACP clients!"

Homeowners and businesses in the Maricopa, Arizona area in search of a local, reputable professional painting contractor can rely on ACP Painting to deliver the service they want and need. Hiring a professional painter can be difficult, especially when quality is, as it should be, an important consideration. At ACP Painting, the goal is professionalism, and many of their clients have left reviews discussing the company's high standards of service.

Sandy, who had ACP paint her house when she first moved to Arizona, says, "When we moved to Arizona, ACP Painting, LLC, painted our house inside and out before we moved in. Fast forward 10 years, and the outside was showing a lot of fading with our Arizona sun. Once we were on their schedule and had our paint colors approved by our HOA, ACP Painting let us know when the house would be power washed and what to expect for the next few days until the project was complete. Their prep work before even starting to paint is very impressive. Each day, they let us know when they were leaving and what time they would arrive each morning. Once the project was finished, everything was put back and cleaned up. They told us to let them know if we see anything at all that needed attention and they would return and take care of it. Our house looks beautiful!"

Another client, Jeff, has worked with ACP on a number of projects. His review says, "We have used ACP Painting for many recent jobs, both interior and exterior. With every job, they have done exactly what they said they were going to do, when they said they were going to do it and at the price quoted. In addition, every one of their teams have done the job beautifully, even when there have been the most stringent of requirements. You cannot go wrong with using ACP."
