June 15, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The 2019 Audi A5 Sportback special lease offer has just been released by the Hoffman Audi of New London dealership. For $409 per month for 36 months and $3,554 down, the 2019 Audi A5 Sportback can be leased today. The Audi A5 Sportback is notably one of the sleekest Audi models to date. The A5 Sportback combines traits of a sedan, coupe, and hatchback. The Audi A5 Sportback has dozens of technological safety features including Pre-Sense Basic, which prepares the car for a collision. In the event of a crash, the car will close the roof and windows, and tighten the seatbelts to keep the occupants safe. Front sport seats are installed with eight-way power front seats and four-way lumbar support for the driver's seat.

Child safety features include child safety latch systems and an additional tether for the rear middle seat. Electronic stability control (ESC) and the ABS brakes help control the vehicle during sudden movements. However, for anything more than the usual commute, cruise control and the ergonomic driver's footrest make long drives more comfortable. The Audi A5 Sportback received five out of five stars from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). The A5 Sportback has received five out of five on countless safety tests like overall side crash rating, side barrier rating (passenger and driver's side), side pole rating, overall safety rating, and combined side safety rating for both front and back seats.

Along with the perk of an additional child safety restraint, the Audi A5 Sportback has one of the largest cargo spaces in the luxury small car class. Parking assist comes standard on the Audi A5 Sportback to further help with parking. Seemingly endless storage is available too which highlights the combination of style, convenience, and performance.
