

Dispensary Prepares for Denver Cannabis Delivery with Value Pricing

June 23, 2020

June 23, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

As Denver marijuana dispensaries wait for delivery authorization from the city, one of the area's leading dispensaries is changing things up. Emerald Fields is preparing for cannabis delivery with value pricing on their most popular products.

Based in Glendale, Colorado, Emerald Fields cannabis dispensary has reduced their prices to $99 per ounce out-the-door and 19.99/eighths ? Level 10, with up to 4 strains available. Their Mix and Match Ounce is 50 percent off the retail price, excluding all specials. Customers can also choose any assortment of eight full-priced eighths and receive 50 percent off.

Emerald Fields is one of the most trustworthy and engaged cannabis brands in the state of Colorado. As the dispensaries in the state look to the on-coming delivery business, Emerald Fields is positioning itself to be a preferred provider of cannabis products for delivery. Customers can currently shop and order online and pick up in-store, or visit in person for a guided experience through a range of price points to meet their budget. The free Emerald Fields loyalty program offers discounts with every visit, including the first visit.

A spokesperson for the company says, "Emerald Fields is a cannaboutique, where a relaxed lifestyle meets exceptional service. We're as mainstream as any great retail experience. We want you to be comfortable and not intimidated. Retail cannabis is a 'new world' for many first time shoppers looking to embrace the vibe. For the more experienced aficionados, we have everything you'll ever need. We believe in having the most knowledgeable, experienced ambassadors to help guide you through the store to make a smooth, informed decision. Our customer commitment will not change even with the changes that may result from delivery in Colorado."
