June 15, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A special lease offer on the 2020 Audi Q5 was just announced by the Mohegan Lake Audi dealership in New York. The Q5 can be leased for $4,014 down due at signing and $449 per month for 36 months.

The highlights of the 2019 Audi Q5 are the new seven inch front infotainment display and high safety ratings. Gas mileage for the Audi Q5 comes in at 22 MPG city and 27 MPG highway (24 MPG combined). The Q5's inline engine puts out 248-horsepower and standard all-wheel drive. It comes with a seven-speed automated manual transmission which can be controlled through the steering wheel.

The 2020 Audi Q5 received a five star safety rating from the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration in part due to the Audi Pre Sense Basic. The standard automatic emergency braking system helps prevent automobile accidents and significantly reduces speed of potential collisions. Daytime running lights, turn signal mirrors, an engine immobilizer, and traction control help keep the Audi Q5 running safely and smoothly. It also ranked as a finalist for the 2019 best luxury compact SUV for the money and 2019 best luxury compact SUV for families. The Q5's fold-down rear seat is an advantage for families to store more cargo.

Optional packages for the accommodating Q5 include: cold weather package, warm weather package, black optic package, and the winter wheel and tire package. Three months of satellite radio is included with the AM/FM radio.

The Mohegan Lake Audi has been noted for good reviews. According to a review left on Dealer Rater, the Mohegan Lake Audi was "responsive to what is important to the customer." For anyone interested in the Mohegan Lake Audi Q5 lease deals, call or email the dealership for more information.
