

Lifes LLC Releases Kindle Edition Of Reference Book For Concussions In Children

February 17, 2016

February 17, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Lifes LLC, a Fairbury, Illinois company, has recently released the Kindle edition of the book, "The Unabridged Encyclopedia on Concussions". The book was written by experts passionate in the field of concussions and related issues, and contains a plethora of information that will be useful for parents and medical professionals alike.

Bill Davis, spokesperson for Lifes LLC, commented about the release. He said: "Concussions in children should be something that we see on the news every day, considering the high numbers that are treated in emergency rooms on a daily basis. We hope to stand out as a new reference book, covering all topics regularly seen around the web."

The company states that the reference book, which contains more than 1,000 pages of material, was put together for less than a penny per page, and by professionals that have experience in dealing with issues in their respective fields.

"The Unabridged Encyclopedia on Concussions," Vol. 1, is a comprehensive and interactive digital book.

Highlights include the signs and symptoms of concussions in children, as well as how to effectively prevent concussions. Other highlights of the digital book include research, references, and various external links to assist readers along with treatment, cumulative effects, and prognosis of varying levels of concussion.

"It focuses on children and the damage sustained when they incur head injuries, and is perfect for "soccer moms as well as medical professionals," states Bill Davis. According to research done for the book, younger children have a much higher rate of concussion among all age groups, and most cases of traumatic brain injuries in children are due to concussions, which are often not examined by a medical professional. The book outlines symptoms that may not be recognized if they are subtle, which they can often be in younger children.

It states that no less than 25 percent of all concussion sufferers are not properly assessed, if at all, by a medical professional, and this can lead to tragic consequences. The reference book is designed to help parents and medical professionals better understand the urgency of medical care with head injuries.

The book can be seen and purchased at http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B0140JZHCW?Version=1&entries=0.

###

For more information about Lifes LLC, contact the company here: Lifes LLC Bill Davis 702) 825-4330 lifessupport@lifesllc.com 19 Timber Ridge Dr Fairbury, IL 61739

Lifes LLC

Home of the Answer Book series; written by experts passionate about their fields.

Website: <http://lifesllc.com>

Email: lifessupport@lifesllc.com

Phone: 702) 825-4330

Powered by PressAdvantage.com