Freddie Boersma of Made By Humans 2 Designs, Inc says, ?Everyone loves balloon animals, and I think I wouldn?t be wrong in saying that balloon dogs are easily one of the most popular balloon animals. The problem with actual balloon dogs is that they never last for long. The balloons eventually burst, and you?ve got nothing remaining. With our new product, the Balloon Dog Bookends, the balloon animal lover in you can have a permanent display of two adorable balloon dogs decorating your house. The best part, of course, is that they serve a dual purpose and will also help you organize your book collection in a neat manner.?

He adds, ?If you don?t want the balloon dog bookends for yourself, you can give them to a friend who is a bibliophile. After all, you know how difficult it can be to find a gift for a booklover. You don?t know what book they?ll like and what they won?t. Instead of going through all that trouble, you can just buy them a set of our Balloon Dog Bookends as a thoughtful present! Whether they are used on a bedside table, shelving unit or desk, we can guarantee that these two red sausage dogs won?t fail to put a smile on anyone?s face.?
