July 15, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

New Medical Spa, based in Glen Allen, VA, would like to reach out to Glen Allen residents who may be in search of anti-aging medical spa treatments. The spa offers a wide range of medical spa treatments with a special emphasis on wrinkle removal techniques. Dr. Teresa Camden of New Medical Spa and her team look forward to providing quality, effective treatments to their Glen Allen patients.

Men and women throughout the Glen Allen and greater Richmond, VA area can finally look and feel their best with the help of Teresa Camden, MD, FACSM, says the spa. As a leading Cosmetic Medicine practitioner with over 20 years of experience, Dr. Camden and her team at New Medical Spa can offer you a number of health and aesthetic solutions. Her Richmond, Virginia practice is conveniently located near Wyndham, Innsbrook and Short Pump.

Dr. Camden specializes in wrinkle removal, and she utilizes many techniques and treatments that can help remove wrinkles from the faces of her patients. One option on offer at the spa is the insertion of dermal fillers, which can help smooth out one's skin and minimize the appearance of moderate to deep grooves and wrinkles. The spa uses clinically tested and proven dermal fillers from reliable producers like Belotero®, Radiesse® and JUVÉDERM® to fill in areas where the patient may have lost volume. The advanced dermal fillers used by Dr. Camden are made to last a long time, and one can expect the effects to last up to two years.

While dermal fillers can boost the appearance of one's skin on an immediate basis, it is still important to take care of one's skin and protect it in order to lessen the effects of aging. Dr. Camden offers an entire line of SkinMedica® solutions to help patients maintain the appearance of their skin. Dr. Camden also offers her patients advice on how to avoid wrinkles.

“Once Dr. Camden gets you started on your custom anti-aging regimen and you begin noticing the benefits of injectables and clinical-grade SkinMedica products, you need to start looking at preventive skincare,” says the spa. “Granted, you’re still going to age, so you can’t stop all wrinkles from forming. However, you can certainly work to lessen your risk of deep wrinkles and other signs of aging. The best way to prevent wrinkles is to minimize sun exposure and wear sunscreen daily. SkinMedica has an entire line of protective products that offer up to SPF 50+. Some products are even tinted and blend in perfectly underneath your makeup. Schedule your anti-aging consultation at New Medical Spa and take control of your wrinkles.”

Dr. Camden has over 20 years of experience and is considered a leader in the cosmetic medicine industry. Born and raised in New York City, Dr. Camden attended Albany Medical College in Albany NY where she completed a combined BS-MD program in 1995. After completing her residency training at CHRISTUS Spohn Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi, Texas, she went through her sports medicine fellowship at the University of Texas Southwestern in Dallas. She puts a great deal of effort into staying up to date with the latest treatments and procedures available. Her lifelong efforts, research and experience in cosmetic medicine make it so Dr. Camden's patients know they can always count on her to look and feel their best.

A number of Dr. Camden's patients have left excellent reviews of her work. One review on the spa's GMB listing, from a patient named Marie, states, “Dr. Teresa Camden is not only absolutely meticulous and skilled in her work, but she is the kindest most wonderful caring doctor that you will ever have. She inspires confidence and trust, and the results of her treatments are instantaneous. I am excited and looking forward to continue having her take care of my skin and seeing the progress of the positive results that I have begun to see! She's absolutely the best!”

Another patient, Noelle, says, “Dr. Camden is amazing! This was my first Botox/Xeomin experience, and she made it very fast, easy and painless. A little less than a week later, and the results are amazing! I am hooked. My forehead looks natural and I still have range of motion, but the lines (wrinkles) are gone! I will definitely be returning for future services and recommending Dr. Camden to anyone and everyone I know!”

The spa's Facebook page has more reviews from pleased patients and one can also get in contact through this platform. The team at New Medical Spa welcome any and all inquiries from their clients.
