Alpha Therapeutics LLC, a white label CBD oil manufacturer, has announced their launch of new organic cannabigerol (CBG) products. CBG oil may not be as popular as CBD oil but a growing body of new studies suggests that it may be able to offer many of the benefits provided by CBD oil. Just like CBD, CBG is a cannabinoid, which is a naturally occurring compound that is found in hemp and cannabis plants. CBG is considered by some as the "mother of cannabinoids" because it is believed that many cannabinoids begin as a form of CBG.

Cannabinoids, like THC and CBD, are naturally synthesized from CBG, which explains why there is less CBG in the more mature cannabis or hemp plants. The amount of CBG in the cannabis or hemp plant decreases as the plant ages because it is being synthesized over time to produce the other types of cannabinoids. CBG is becoming popular because it is non-psychoactive, which means that people may be able to use its therapeutic benefits without the mind-altering effects of THC.

According to the research being conducted on CBG oil, there are a number of potential therapeutic benefits. These include pain relief; anti-anxiety and antidepressant properties; ability to function as natural muscle relaxant; antimicrobial, antifungal, and antibacterial properties; neuroprotective effect; the fact that it may assist in managing bladder dysfunction; anti-tumor effects; the fact that it may help strengthen the bones; the possibility that it may help in managing psoriasis; the fact that it may help soothe inflammatory bowel disease; and the fact that it may help in the treatment of glaucoma.

It is important to realize that CBD and CBG are quite similar. They are both cannabinoids and they are both naturally occurring compounds that can be derived from the hemp or cannabis plant. Also, both CBD and CBG interact with the endocannabinoid system of the human body and thus have an impact on the body by interacting with that system. Both CBD and CBG are non-psychoactive and both may have several benefits.

One of the newly launched products by Alpha Therapeutics utilizes organic CBG oil for pain. It is a 2:1 CBG/CBD pain stick with 2000 mg of CBD and 1000 mg of CBG. It is to be applied topically at the site of the pain for temporary relief of pain in the muscles due to strains and joint discomfort. It is ensured to be THC free and it is provided with a no mess no rub applicator. Its organic content is estimated to be 95 percent and its ingredients include CBD, CBG, organic coconut oil, organic yellow beeswax, eucalyptus, camphor, organic peppermint, organic cocoa butter, Arnica montana, and organic menthol.

The other newly launched product is the 2:1 CBG/CBD premium facial cream. This particular organic facial cream is formulated using CBG oils, CBD oils, tonifying dimethylethanolamine (DMAE), CoQ10, moisture-boosting hyaluronic acid. This particular product may help in toning, hydrating, softening, and revitalizing skin. It is produced in a base of organic aloe and delicate rose distillate. It contains 500 mg of CBD, 250 mg of CBG, hyaluronic acid, alpha lipoic acid, vitamin C, vitamin A, pro-vitamine B5, vitamin B3, and vegan DMAE. It is considered as a vegan product and its ingredients include CBD, CBG, rose flower water, emulsifying wax, glycerin, organic aloe leaf juice, meadowfoam seed oil, vitamin E, DMAE bitartrate, vitamin C, carrot seed oil, sunflower seed oil, coenzyme q10, provitamin A, hyaluronic acid, alpha lipoic acid, provitamin B5, vitamin a palmitate, vitamin B3, organic bilberry fruit extract, organic sugar maple extract, organic sugar cane extract, organic lemon peel extract, organic cranberry fruit extract, organic orange peel extract, castor oil, lecithin, organic alcohol, phenoxyethanol, tetrasodium glutamate diacetate, and xanthan gum.
