Fishers, IN. ? As the coronavirus (COVID-19) sweeps the nation many businesses are doing what they can to help their communities get through this difficult time. Express Employment Professionals, a staffing company in Fishers, IN, is no exception. The location has developed an Essential Worker Stimulus Program to help their associates. The program is for associates of Express Employment Professionals at the Fishers location and for employees of their client companies.

The Essential Worker Stimulus program provides $50 -$100 payments to essential workers who may need extra help with bills during the pandemic. The fund is also designed to recognize essential workers who have gone above and beyond their call of duty to help others during the pandemic. The program will be ongoing for as long as funds last. Each week a new recipient will be chosen based on need.

The Program started eight weeks ago and has already provided over 900 dollars to essential workers. Recipients have used the extra funds to cover critical bills such as rent, utilities, medical expenses, and transportation.

"We are honored to work with the best people and companies in Hamilton County," said Lee Wenninger, Owner. "Our workers are keeping the economy going, and this Program recognizes their dedication."
