

A Local RV Campground in Pensacola, FL is Highlighting National Park and Recreation Month

July 17, 2020

July 17, 2020 -

Pensacola, Fla. ? Avalon Landing RV Park is a beloved RV campground in Pensacola, FL known to locals and tourists alike as a fun, quiet place to take a break from the real world. The company is proud to highlight July as National Park and Recreation Month. National Parks are close to the company?s heart as a part of the beloved community, providing outdoor fun and recreation for people all over the nation.

The 2020 celebration of National Parks and Recreation comes at a perfect time, as national parks are just now starting to open back amid the coronavirus pandemic. The theme of the 2020 park and recreation month this year is ?We are Parks and Recreation.? This is to highlight the diversity among those in the park and recreation profession and to also showcase the selfless work and time they dedicate to their job. For anyone wanting to help celebrate National Park and Recreation month, use the hashtag #WeAreParksAndRec while visiting one of the nation?s National Parks.

The Pensacola, FL RV Park knows that the national parks around the nation are essential to provide safe family fun, while also providing ways to exercise and get fresh air while many businesses around the country are still closed or re-closing. The RV park is also located close to two national parks: one known as Fort Pickens, which was an active military fort for the nation from 1834-1947. The second is the Naval Live Oaks National Park which is a part of the Gulf Islands National Seashore. The Naval Live Oaks National Park was the first and only tree farm owned by the federal government.
