July 22, 2020 -

Mesa, AZ ? Express Employment Professionals is a staffing solutions company in Mesa, AZ, highlighting the company's annual compensation report. The company?s annual compensation report provides insights for the salaries and employment forecast for the months to come. The report comes at an unprecedented time in the employment industry as employment rates are drastically changing. This report has some interesting highlights, as shown below.

The report highlights the large impact small businesses can have in the employment realm. This year?s annual compensation reports say that 55 percent of the workforce is made up of companies with less than 50 employees, proving small businesses are the backbone of the nation, and something to protect as we adjust to a new normal amidst the pandemic. On a positive note, the report shows data that most businesses remain optimistic that the economy will not go into another recession in the coming months.

Even more encouraging, the compensation reports show that businesses expect pay to either increase or stay the same in the upcoming months. This will help out many people who have been negatively impacted by the recent increase in unemployment. The compensation report moves on to highlight a new segment in the workforce, referred to as the ?grey collar? workers. The grey collared section highlights employees who need degrees or certificates but also include some form of manual labor.
