The Angell Law Firm, a respected Atlanta area legal practice, has just posted a new blog on their website which is titled ?Will My Health Insurance Cover Car Accident Injuries??. This blog talks all about the complicated world of health insurance coverage and how it relates to paying medical bills for those who have been injured in a car accident. The newly posted article stated that although personal health insurance usually is not the first policy that comes into play for those who have suffered automobile accident-related injuries, it still has a role to play in the process.

The firm?s founder, Attorney Bryce Angell, started by writing that getting medical care after an accident should always be a victim?s number one priority. The lead attorney at the firm also wrote that coverage for medical care after an accident can be a tricky issue. This is especially true for those with multiple insurance policies in place. According to the blog, other factors such as co-pays and deductibles also complicate the process. It was mentioned that car insurance normally is the first type of insurance that?s used to pay for auto accident-related bills. Personal health insurance usually does not kick in with coverage until all of the car accident insurance coverage options have been exhausted. The blog also stated that these coverage amounts most likely are much more limited in scope than those under auto insurance accident insurance plans. Attorney Angell went on to write that someone who is injured in a car accident through no fault of their own is entitled to retain the services of a personal injury lawyer to help them recover expenses Most of this process involves negotiation and litigation with the negligent driver?s auto insurance carrier. The blog article closed by saying that the tricky process of determining what insurance coverages pay for medical bills is easier to navigate through with legal representation services such as the Angell Law Firm provides.

I called due to the fact I was rear-ended. I called the day after my accident in February 2020. They were at my service on the same day. The Investigator came out. He was nice and polite. We even spoke about the details of my accident when I was on my way to Dr.'s. It?s June 2020 now and my case has been settled already. I was honestly amazed. I didn't know what to expect. By God's Grace Ms. Grisel Torres, is Phenomenal!! She is true to her word and on your side.
