Ron's Amazing Products, based in Catonsville, Maryland, has announced that they have signed up for an account with Dailymotion. Their first video, as can be seen at <http://www.dailymotion.com/ronsamazingproducts>, discusses their popular pen with camera. While having only recently signed up to the platform, the company already has over 500 views from different customers.

"All our products have been designed to be easy to use," says Ronald Hoff from Ron's Amazing Products. "However, this doesn't mean people don't have questions about them. Thus, we are creating videos for our different products that show exactly how they work and how to get the most out of them. Sharing them on the Dailymotion platform is a great way to get this information out to our customers and we are encouraged to see that it is already becoming popular."

Ron's Amazing Products wants to use the platform to be able to reach out to their customers. They will be creating videos for each of their products so that customers know how to operate them properly.

Furthermore, troubleshooting tips and tricks will also be included. The company has big plans to include more videos on a regular basis.

Customers are encouraged to look at the videos and use the platform to communicate with the company. "We want to engage our customers so that they know we are approachable and are there for them," adds Ronald Hoff. "We also hope that they don't only contact us when they have some troubleshooting issue. In fact, we really welcome any suggestions they may have in terms of developing new products or improving what we already have on offer."

Ron's Amazing Products will also continue to run their usual website at <http://ronsamazingproducts.com>, where all their products are listed, as well as some general FAQs. While this website does have an area for testimonials, it is not possible to truly engage with the company through this. It is expected that the Dailymotion account will change that and customers are encouraged to follow the platform so that they are kept up to date with new information on existing and upcoming products.
