July 30, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Beyond profit, Proudly, the Best Credit Card Processing Company in South Carolina, promotes the culture of giving back among businesses. Proudly is a new concept business platform for credit card processing for any business owner that provides an extraordinary opportunity to give back to a cause that is important to them at no additional expense to their company.

This new concept was developed with the idea of creating auto-contributions, with little to no effort involved. Not only will Proudly make a donation to the charity of the company's choice with no out-of-pocket expense to the business but will most likely beat their current processing fees and save money at the same time.

With Proudly, your business can easily integrate giving back with no additional cost to their bottom line. The Proudly platform will create a positive customer perspective and provide employee satisfaction through community engagement. We are turning ordinary purchases into extraordinary purchases, benefiting those who need it most. Every transaction can make a difference, the company states.

The Best Payment Processor in South Carolina got this concept from its over 20 years of experience in the credit card processing business. Proudly's goal is to help clients have a secure method of supporting great causes that make this world a better place.

With the use of technology, clients can generate auto contributions to any charities in the world from everyday purchases from their business. ?Our platform harnesses the power of everyday commerce and automatically generates contributions to the world?s charities.?

To connect commerce with charities, Proudly offers different payment solutions for various industries, including food & beverage, professional services, e-commerce, and charity / non-profit organizations.
