Los Gatos, California based The Painting Pros is pleased to announce that they can now run virtual estimates for their customers. This eliminates the need for them to enter a customer's home in person when scheduling an exterior painting project. The Painting Pros has been offering high quality painting services to the residents and businesses of California since 1978.

Cleve Dayton, owner of The Painting Pros, says, "When someone visits your home or your business, the first thing that they are greeted with is the building itself. It's very important that the exterior of your home or business looks great. If you have peeling, faded or chipped painting, it is more than likely that you'll be judged negatively. Therefore, it is paramount that you make sure that the exterior of your home or commercial building is kept as clean and pristine as it can look with a fresh coat of premium paint."

Dayton continues, "Of course, you can do it yourself. You might be tempted to, especially if you've done a few DIY projects in your time. While taking on the project yourself will save you a few bucks in the short term, however, you'll probably end up regretting that decision later. The truth is that, unless you have extensive painting experience, the right materials and a fair amount of time to invest into the project, you'll have a hard time with it. Hiring a professional painter, on the other hand, will save you lots of hassle, and the end results will also be excellent ? especially if you hire the right professional.?

The Painting Pros says that it is important to know that the company one hires for their painting projects is reputable, experienced and knowledgeable. The Painting Pros has been in the painting business for over 40 years and have proven themselves as leaders in their industry. The company asserts that they are both responsive and reliable, and they make it a priority to complete the job right and on time. The Painting Pros uses only the highest quality paints and primers to produce a smoother and cleaner look that lasts much longer without fading, chipping or flaking. The company also has a team of trained technicians and the proper tools and materials to ensure the job is done correctly.

Dayton says, "When you are working with us, you don't have to worry about anything. We understand the differences between commercial and residential painting, and we undertake each project with the necessary considerations in mind. There are a number of critical differences between painting a commercial building and painting a home, and if you don't know how to approach each project, you stand to ruin everything. That will never be the case with us.?"

The Painting Pros is also an environmentally conscious company. They are certified as a lead-safe company, and they have been trained (as required by EPA) to follow lead-safe practices. If lead-based paint is discovered on homes built before 1978, the company's technicians know how to apply these practices in any painting, repair or renovation project they perform on the home. Further, the company voluntarily requested an evaluation from Green America, who awarded The Painting Pros the "Certified Green" distinction ? awarded to companies that "adopt principles, policies and practices that improve the quality of life for their customers, employees, communities and the planet.?"

However, this is not the extent of the recognition that the Painting Pros has achieved. Their excellence in the field has also earned them the honor of being one of the few elite painting companies that has been awarded the prestigious Diamond Certified Award for high quality and customer service. That means clients of The Painting Pros get the best possible results and excellent customer service that they expect and deserve. Dayton says, "You should never settle for an exterior painting company that's just mediocre. Choose a company that strives to go the extra mile and continuously improve. That's us.?"
