

A Bookkeeper's Corner Opens San Francisco Office

August 31, 2015

August 31, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SAN FRANCISCO ? A Bookkeeper's Corner, provider of bookkeeping and accounting services to small business clients, announced today that it has opened its third location in San Francisco. The expansion comes as a growing set of Bay Area businesses seek cost-effective bookkeeping and financial management help from the company.

?We've experienced striking growth in Northern California by not being the typical bookkeeper or accounting contractors,? said Yaritza Delorenzo, Founder and CEO of A Bookkeeper's Corner. ?I approach your books as a business owner. We give you your own Online Business Manager, rather than a traditional accountant.?

A Bookkeeper's Corner offers a range of services, including Monthly Bookkeeping and Accounting, Clean Up, CPA Liason, Payroll and Tax Compliance. The company's website, <http://abookkeeperscorner.com>, details the offerings. All of A Bookkeeper's Corner's services are based on the principles of simplicity and accessibility. Delorenzo believes that the best financial management occurs when accountants avoid specialized jargon that tends to confuse or even frighten business owners.

?No matter how small your business or venture is, whether you have staff or not, you will find yourself managing many departments, such as marketing, sales, IT, accounting, product/service delivery, customer service, support, and quality assurance departments,? Delorenzo added. ?Even if you?re the only employee in your company, you still have to take care of all these duties. Selective outsourcing is a great approach to being successful. We can help with the accounting side of things so you can focus on what you do best.?

Delorenzo has more than 20 years of bookkeeping experience following a non-traditional entry and training in the financial field. In addition to the new San Francisco location, the company has offices in Las Vegas and Los Angeles.
