Cullman, Ala. ? Always striving to provide the best care possible for each patient, Beltone USA, a hearing doctor in Cullman, AL, held their annual free hearing clinic during the month of August. This clinic lasted for five days, during which the Beltone community was provided with free hearing screenings, free video otoscope exams, and free ten-point hearing aid checkups.

Upon arrival at the clinic, a patient could take part in a hearing test, which lets the hearing physician know how to proceed with the proper hearing treatment. The patient could also receive a free otoscope exam, which helps the physician get a clear look at the eardrums and ear canal. This allows the physician to see if there is excess earwax or other underlying issues in the patient's ear. The ten-point hearing aid checkup includes an inspection of the condition of the patient's hearing aids, where the hearing physician will check ten different elements of the hearing aid.

As a provider of ear care in Cullman, AL, Beltone USA believes in the importance of regular hearing screenings and hearing checkups, and they want to make sure their community understands this importance as well. Not only does hearing loss decrease one's quality of life, but it can also be an indicator of a more serious illness.
