Hilton Head Town Shows Sneak Peak of Newest Attraction

August 27, 2020

August 27, 2020 -
Hilton Head 360, the Best Marketing Agency in Bluffton, SC, reported that residents of Hilton Head in South Carolina finally had a glimpse of the newest attraction in the town, which will open later this year.

Projected to open later this year is the Lowcountry Celebration Park, which will showcase the island's history. Some of its unique and fun features include a large lawn and stage to accommodate festivals, concerts, and other gatherings; the Sandbox Children?s Museum; walking trails and boardwalks; exercise stations; additional parking, and improved access to beach parking. This newest attraction in Hilton Head is expected to draw more people to the town.

Another feature of the Lowcountry Celebration Park is the Adventure Playground Ship, which was featured last month in celebration of the Park and Recreation Month. The iconic ship is named after the vessel that explorer Capt. William Hilton traveled on to Hilton Head Island in 1663. He sailed the Adventure from Barbados to explore new lands and named Hilton Head Island after a headland near Port Royal Sound entrance.

The Best Creative Agency in Bluffton, SC also reported that this playground ship would be located off of Pope Avenue, adjacent to the Coligny Beach Parking Lot. The publication company also highlighted how Hilton Head gives importance to its parks and recreation facility. ?Across the island, the town has an array of parks that offer access to recreation and a dynamic team of professionals who keep them beautiful year-round for the residents and visitors to enjoy,? as stated in the article.

Meanwhile, Hilton Head 360 is the leading source of information for vacation rentals, real estate, news, videos, and local island information. The media company also features the many things to do in Hilton Head Island, where to eat, and the area?s best golf courses. The media company is owned by long-time Hilton Head Island residents Dan and Deborah Monroe and has been in business since 1976.

Despite the digital revolution and the presence of smart devices everywhere, the Hilton Head map is still a favorite of local businesses and tourists. This Hilton Head map is produced by Hilton Head 360 and distributed in hundreds of locations throughout the area. The guide map includes bike paths, beaches, local shopping destinations, restaurants, and activities. It is also considered a prime publication for businesses looking to target vacationers to the Hilton Head area.
