get-togethers and gatherings. Thus, Rose Landscape suggested a few summer garden maintenance recommendations to ensure the best garden look this summer.

First is the use of summer annuals such as marigold, zinnia, and impatiens for the warm season. These plants grow and flower best in the summer. As summer progresses, shrub trimming will most likely be needed to keep any landscape tidy. Adding some edging and mulch are also perfect for the summer to ensure less watering and likewise add visual appeal to the garden.
