Oklahoma City - A local medical spa clinic, Belle Âme Med Spa and CoolSculpting Center is inviting the public to an event to celebrate its reopening after several months of shutdown due to COVID.

The event which will take place at the medical spa's location at 8 SW 89th St STE 101, Oklahoma City, OK 73139 will include a car show, food trucks, and free samples of some of the professional treatments offered by Belle Âme. There will also be free giveaways of full treatments. Some of the giveaways include: HydraFacial, a water based facial treatment, Botox, Juvederm Ultra, a facial filler, Jeuveau, an injectable similar to Botox, Skin Pen, a form of "microneedling" which rejuvenates the skin and reduces fine lines.

"We are really excited about this event," stated Daniel James, a representative of the clinic, "I think the community needs things like this to help folks feel sense of celebration after such a tough year. This is our first event of this size and we expect it to have a pretty big turn out."

Of course, being that the event will be hosted by a professional medical clinic, responsible social distancing will be practiced and masks will be available for those that need them.

Belle Âme, was started by Dr. Qualls Stevens, a local neurosurgeon at the end of 2019. Shortly after opening, the clinic was forced to shut down in compliance with COVID restrictions.

Belle Âme is unique in that it is doctor owned and managed. While the state requires medical spas to be supervised by a doctor, few are actually owned and run by them directly.

Along with skin and face treatments, Belle Âme is a leading provider of CoolSculpting, a permanent non-surgical fat reduction procedure that targets fat cells with temperatures that kill them and cause the body to flush them out without affecting other tissues.
