Ethos Spa, Skin and Laser Center, a medical spa based in Summit, NJ, that is also known as My Ethos Spa, has revealed that they offer a non-invasive butt lift procedure, particularly the Sculptra Brazilian butt lift. They want to emphasize that this is the preferred butt lift solution for women who are unable to take weeks off from the daily lives. This is because the Sculptra procedure has almost zero recovery time. And compared to the traditional butt lift, which requires invasive surgery that removes fat from other areas of the body and transfers them to the butt, the Sculptra butt lift only requires a simple one-step procedure that is designed to stimulate the body's natural collagen production.

Hardik Soni, Medical Director of Ethos Spa, Skin and Laser Center, says, "Say goodbye to the weeks of downtimes and harsh restrictions after a traditional Brazilian butt lift. With Sculptra, just 3-4 treatments lasting 10 minutes each is enough to produce long-lasting results."

He adds, "At Ethos Spa, you are our first priority. That's why we allow ample time for each appointment, so we can sit and discuss your procedure honestly and in detail. We want you to have realistic expectations about your procedure, and we want to make sure we understand what you want to achieve. Our spa is impeccable yet comfortable, and our staff is caring and professional. We are a recognized leader in cosmetic procedures in the New Jersey and New York areas.?

They offer other non-invasive cosmetic procedures, aside from the Brazilian butt lift, such as Botox, laser hair removal, CoolSculpting, lip injections, tattoo removal, and other services. People who are interested in getting to know more about Ethos Spa and their services may want to check out their Facebook page.

Ethos Spa offers Botox as a skin rejuvenation treatment. This makes use of a protein derived from a natural bacterium that is found in nature. This protein, when injected will allow the facial muscles to relax. It may also be used in other parts of the body. For the face, the result is that wrinkles, fine lines, and crow's feet disappear, thus, leaving behind a soft and smooth facial skin, making it appear younger.

They also provide laser hair removal, which allows people to eliminate unwanted hair or hair that is growing in the wrong places. It is more convenient than shaving, plucking, or waxing. Shaving can cause nicks and cuts, and when the hair starts to grow again, it usually results into a rough stubble, possible ingrown hairs, and irritated skin. And while plucking and waxing are more effective than shaving, they are painful procedures. Laser hair removal offers a better alternative to getting rid of hair on the bikini lines, stomach, shoulders, legs, chin, upper lip, face, underarms, neck, back, arms, and sideburns.

Ethos Spa also offers another non-invasive procedure for shaping the body, which is CoolSculpting. This can help in getting rid of unwanted fat in stubborn areas, with the patient getting a slimmer body. The experienced physicians at Ethos Spa are well-experienced and knowledgeable regarding this procedure, which can be done in just one hour. It can get rid of as high as 25 percent of the fat cells in the treated area and the results will be permanent, as long as healthy weight is maintained by the patient.

They also offer lip injections, which is a non-invasive option for providing volume to thin lips or for reshaping the lower or upper lip. This non-surgical procedure makes use of dermal fillers, which are commonly used for quickly getting rid of wrinkles and fine lines, create contours and symmetry, firm the skin, and correct scars.
