

Long Island Criminal Lawyer Announces New Service Area in Nassau County

September 22, 2020

September 22, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Criminal Attorney Jason Bassett - Nassau County, with offices in Central Islip, NY, announces his expansion into a new service area in the courts of Nassau County. Criminal Attorney Jason Bassett and his law firm are focused on protecting the rights of individuals who have been accused, arrested, and charged with a crime. Mr. Bassett has extensive experience as a Long Island criminal lawyer who always defends his clients aggressively at both the state and federal levels.

As a former prosecutor and having practiced criminal law for more than 20 years, Jason Bassett understands both sides of the courtroom and how vulnerable an accused person can be when going up against the criminal justice system. Nevertheless, a defendant has vital legal rights and it is the responsibility of the criminal defense attorney to uphold those rights both in and out of court. He has successfully represented individuals charged with felonies, misdemeanors, and violations on Long Island in both Suffolk County and Nassau County.

Jason Bassett explains, "If you've been arrested or just accused of a crime on Long Island, you may be subject to months or even years in jail or prison, not to mention probation, fines, and other court costs. You can face having a criminal record, the loss of your present job and difficulty getting employment in the future, losing your driver's license, or even being denied rental housing."

That is why it is essential for anyone charged with a crime to obtain the services of a dependable and experienced criminal attorney on Long Island. To ensure the best possible outcome for their client, a criminal defense lawyer has to have a thorough knowledge of criminal law and a willingness to go the extra mile to make sure every possible defense is fully explored.

A top Long Island Criminal Attorney has to other characteristics as well: familiarity with prosecutors, court customs, and procedures on Long Island; knowing how to negotiate from a position of strength with prosecutors for dismissal or a reduction of the charges; experience representing minors and working with their parents in cases involving charges of juvenile delinquency; the ability to effectively interview all witnesses, whether they be for the defense or for the prosecution; the know-how to manage a thorough investigation of all facts of the case; a thorough knowledge of alternative sentencing programs; consistency in informing and advising the defendant about his or her options; a willingness to educate the defendant about what will happen in the courtroom and fully prepared them should the case go to trial; the confidence, skill, and experience to take a case to trial and win; and a knack for keeping the defendant's spirits up while always maintaining the highest professional standards.

One of Criminal Attorney Jason Bassett's practice areas involves defending people charged with Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) - sometimes referred to as "DUI" or "Driving Under the Influence" - or Driving While Ability Impaired (DWAI). He advises those who have been arrested for a DWI/DWAI to immediately seek the assistance of an experienced criminal defense lawyer. This is especially important in charges of Drunk Driving or Driving While Ability Impaired by Drugs because the consequences of a DWI/DWAI conviction can be severe and they can last a lifetime.

Without the assistance of a top DWI lawyer, an accused drunk driver might be convinced that there is no other alternative but to plead guilty to the charges and receive the maximum sentence. With an experienced and reliable DWI lawyer like Criminal Attorney Jason Bassett, there are always other options. He has a long list of successes and can help any individual with DWI/DWAI charges.

He offers a free consultation where he will objectively assess the situation and explain the entire process along with the available legal options. Using his decades of experience, he will fight hard to ensure that his client is found not guilty, the charges are dismissed or reduced, or at least the best possible plea bargain is negotiated.

Those who are looking for a Long Island DWI lawyer or a Top Criminal Defense Lawyer for any type of criminal charge should check out Criminal Attorney Jason Bassett - Nassau County on his website. Criminal Attorney Jason Bassett can be contacted 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
