September 25, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

St Petersburg, Florida based Dan's Hauling is reaching out to share the first two customer reviews they have received through the Yelp platform. The company gives customers the option of renting large, sturdy dumpsters that can be used to dispose of a variety of items.

Brian Goodfriend, a representative of Dan's Hauling, states, "We are very excited to announce that we have received our first few reviews on Yelp from satisfied and happy customers. We had set up this page very recently and are remarkably happy to see that our clients are making the most out of it to share their experience with us and recommend our services to others. We will be looking forward to receiving more customer reviews from other clients, and we expect to learn, and improve our services based on their feedback. Our customer's opinions mean a lot to us, and we will continue paying close attention to their comments and thoughts."

These new comments were posted on the company's new Yelp page where Dan's Hauling offers a brief description of their service, along with a section for clients to share feedback. The first-ever comment on this page attests to the excellence of the company's services and their attention to detail. Steve F. states in their review, "I called and got an immediate response. Someone came to my home right away and gave me a reasonable price to load, haul and dispose of a wood pile. I was glad to see that rotten wood hauled away. Both Meagan and the young man who came out were pleasant and helpful. I recommend Dan's Hauling."

Dan's Hauling takes great pride in the points praised in this review, as they have always prioritized their customer service above all else. Goodfriend states, "Our outstanding customer service has always been a fundamental part of our company as we believe that catering to our customers' needs and making an effort to build a friendly relationship with them is of the utmost importance. We always say that you can rent a dumpster from anyone, but not everyone will give you and your project the care and attention it deserves. We appreciate our customers, and we work hard to ensure that we are the last dumpster rental company they ever choose."

This approach is complemented by excellent service, as Dan's Hauling does not fall short in expertise or quality of work. By making their customers' needs their foremost priority, the local company allows their community to rest assured knowing that they are dealing with professionals who will only act as such. On-time delivery, affordable pricing and comprehensive customer care are all a given when dealing with Dan's Hauling, as the company reassures customers that they will be guided through every step of the way.
