FacebookFSBOKit.com, recently reached their 500th member. Andrew Himelson, spokesperson for the company, released a comment stating how pleased they are to have reached this milestone, "Since we first officially launched in June 2015, we have proven that we can help our members sell their homes fast, and we strive for this continued excellence."

The company, with website at <http://www.facebookfsbokit.com>, directly pinpoints buyers who are interested in properties and shows sellers how to target those buyers. Additionally, they provide sellers with tips and secrets related to selling their homes quickly, such as how to photograph, stage, prep and show their homes. They have been featured on major television news networks including ABC, NBC, and Fox.

"In my follow up with members I have had many tell me they would have never thought to market their home this way but it has been efficient and effective," states Himelson.

They have helped many homeowners. As one homeowner put it, "They show you how to set everything up and I had an ad running in 25 minutes."

The company's Facebook page allows users to interact with each other, offering even more tips and advice that help them to sell their homes without a realtor. Most homeowners fear never being able to sell a home themselves, which is why they choose to pay sometimes exorbitant rates to a real estate agency in order to get it sold.

"We help them to sell just as quickly as they would with a real estate agent while allowing them to keep that extra money that they would have paid to an agent," states Himelson. With 500 members, FacebookFSBokit.com is still growing and continues to offer insights on their Facebook page for current and future customers.

More about the company, including specifics on how they can help average homeowners to sell their own homes without the assistance of a real estate agency, can be seen on the company website.
