September 23, 2020

SYDNEY, NSW - September 23, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Clean Group, based in Sydney, NSW, is pleased to share that they are offering office cleaning services as one of the companies fighting the COVID-19 pandemic. During this critical time, measures such as social distancing and wearing face masks are currently being practiced worldwide in an attempt to curb the spread of the virus. The cleaning company, however, notes that this may be insufficient in certain scenarios. Employees in an office may come from many different areas of the city which have been affected by the pandemic at various levels. Therefore, during their commute to office, one may unknowingly run into the COVID-19 virus.

There is no easier way to reduce company morale than adding cleaning duties to already taxing work responsibilities. However, it is important to maintain cleanliness in the workplace, particularly during a pandemic. Clean Group has been in this business for quite some time, and experience has taught them that no client has the same needs. This led the company to provide quality office cleaning services that Sydney residents can rely on, and their perfected process ensures that the unique needs of each customer are met. Every solution is a unique plan that is suited to the client's specific needs. Their solutions are accompanied by a fair pricing system that is carefully matched with each client. One of the unique qualities that sets the company apart from their competitors is that they do not forget their duty to promote a cleaner environment while offering the best cleaning solutions available. Climate change has been a major culprit behind many of the modern world's environmental issues, causing devastating changes to ecosystems around the world. While others have taken their own measures to help reduce the damages of climate change, the company contributes to this cause by utilizing eco-friendly but effective cleaning solutions. The cleaners only use non-toxic and biodegradable products, for instance, with first choice given to solutions which are produced organically or by using sustainable methods.

Sydney businesses may benefit greatly from the professional office cleaning services offered by the company. Each client can state their exact cleaning requirements when discussing their needs with the team. These requirements will be then incorporated into the site's cleaning specifications. In turn, they incorporate the daily, weekly, fortnightly, quarterly and yearly duties needed to ensure the necessary standard of cleanliness and sanitation of the business' premises. Some basic solutions include wiping desks and horizontal surfaces, collecting rubbish and also cleaning common facilities (such as washrooms and kitchens).

In a review posted on the company website, Michel states that, "Our business relies heavily on cleanliness. In a medical field, cleanliness plays a vital role in determining the credibility and the performance of health workers. I have engaged with Clean Group for two years now, and I never see myself not having them as my cleaner. They have done more than what was expected of them. Their cleaners are exceptionally polite, honest and very detailed with how they do their job."

The company clarifies that they do not only work with offices. Their services extend to the medical field, for instance, a critical area which necessitates extreme levels of cleanliness, particularly during this pandemic. The company also extends their services to gyms, churches, warehouses and other establishments. Clients may be assured that the company is equipped with the experience and skill required to maintain their services safely during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Burton Metcalfe gives the Sydney cleaning company a 5-Star rating on the Google platform and says, "Should you want any services at your company or workplace, you would like to call those men. They are strongly recommended. They are comprehensive, comprehensive and professional. They're instant and you can email them. You're able to use their services on an as-needed basis. In any event, their rates are extremely fair and you'll be happy. Thank you for doing a wonderful job."
