Clean Group Provides Office Cleaners for Various Types of Offices in Sydney

September 23, 2020

SYDNEY, NSW - September 23, 2020 -
Clean Group, a company offering commercial cleaning and office cleaning services in Sydney, NSW, Australia, has revealed that they have office cleaners for different kinds of offices. These could be corporate offices, medical centres, gyms, schools, warehouses, churches, childcare centres, hospitals, and more. They also offer COVID-19 cleaning, where they offer the Clean Group Defence Shield and electrostatic spray and the Zoono-71 Surface Sanitiser for effective disinfection and sanitising of various parts of the office.

With offices requiring thorough cleaning and disinfection services due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the cleaning professionals from Clean Group have been fully trained on how to provide comprehensive cleaning, sanitising, and disinfection of an office for appropriate infection control of harmful germs, viruses, and bacteria.

Since COVID-19 can be spread through touch, their cleaners will disinfect and sanitise frequently touched items and surfaces in the office. These include telephones, keyboards, water faucets, door knobs, desks, chairs, toilet seats, and more. Anything that is used or touched by many people should be disinfected and sanitised. Touching them can allow the virus to be transferred to the hands, and when the person touches his or her face, the virus may eventually gain entry into the body through nose, mouth, or eyes.

Meanwhile, the Clean Group has more than 20 years of experience in cleaning medical centres. They have developed the reputation of being a provider of premium office cleaning and customer services to Sydney medical centres. Their cleaners have expertise in sanitising, disinfecting, sterilizing, and polishing offices in a medical centre, including other medical facilities. A medical centre or hospital requires treatment with the highest sensitivity, which the cleaning professionals from the Clean Group have been trained to provide.

Their medical centre cleaning services includes cleaning of its different parts. These include the doctors? chambers, waiting space, desks, beds, upholstery, bathrooms, reception area, cabinets, couches, chairs, lamps, electronic devices, carpets, pantry, play area, and more. The Clean Group medical cleaning experts are made up of highly skilled, dependable, trustworthy, insured, and licensed technicians who are trained and knowledgeable on how to clean an entire medical centre with sensitivity.

The Clean Group has also more than 20 years of experience in cleaning schools and their offices, which means they can provide spick and span classrooms, halls, office rooms, auditoriums, and more. They make sure to apply advanced technology for ensuring that these parts of the school are cleaned thoroughly using environment-friendly chemicals. These include cleaning the classrooms, chairs, windows, desks, benches, doors, ceilings, corridors, halls, principal?s office, and more.

They also offer church cleaning, which is important because churches are visited by hundreds of people every week. In addition, weddings, baptisms, funerals, and other events are also held in churches. The cleaning professionals from the Clean Group can ensure that churches in Sydney are clean, immaculate, and healthy for the benefit of worshippers and the various people who go to church. Church cleaning services include cleaning of the chapel, chandeliers/ lights/ fixtures, furniture, paintings, statues, ceilings, floors, carpets, windows, and more.

Clean Group also offers cleaning services for warehouses. Because warehouses are busy areas, with commodities being loaded or unloaded at various times of the day, keeping everything clean in the warehouse can be a challenge. Nevertheless, the Clean Group cleaning professionals make use of tools and equipment that offer thorough cleaning of warehouses. These services include empty warehouse cleaning, and cleaning of various parts such as lights/fixtures, shelves, floors, carpets, machines, boxes/cartons, and more.

They also provide childcare centre cleaning services in Sydney. Childcare centres require thorough cleaning for the health and safety of the children. The technicians at Clean Group have been handpicked based on their experience, merits, reliability, and trustworthiness to ensure thorough cleaning of childcare centres.
