September 25, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Well-known local dealer Danbury Volvo is very pleased to announce to all interested customers that its much sought-after Volvo S60 inventory which can be found at <https://www.volvocarsdanbury.com/volvo-s60-inventory-ct.htm> is once again available for lease.

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused supply issues for many industries throughout the nation this year and car dealerships, of course, have not been exempt from the challenges it has caused. For some time now models that customers were interested in have been in either very short, or even non-existent, supply. Fortunately, as Danbury have just announced, that has now changed.

Kevin Farmer, a spokesman for the dealership, said that there has been a lot of interest in the 2020 and 2021 S60 models but that they simply were not available until recently because of disruptions in the supply chain due to COVID. "We actually had pre-orders for the 2021 models at the end of 2019," he said. "Happily, we've now been able to fill those and there are also cars available for others on the lot, both for lease and for purchase."

Part of what has developed this early demand for the S60 is the glowing reviews the model garnered from respected outlets like Edmunds. They wrote that "Impressive driving performance, a comfortable cabin, and a long list of high-tech features are just a few of the items that qualify the latest S60 to compete with long-standing class leaders such as the BMW 3 Series and the Mercedes-Benz C-Class."

In addition to the well-known safety of the Volvo builds, the features that Edmunds are referring to include unusual ones such as a "drowsy driver warning system" and "forward collision warning," in addition to the expected quality of a Volvo such as excellent mpg and inbuilt technology such as Sirius Radio and/or Google maps at a driver's fingertips.

Mr. Farmer continued, "An S60 lease is very affordable, for example, we have an offer of a lease at $259 Per Month For 36 Months. This would include $3,559 Due at Signing for select 2020 Volvo S60 T5 Momentum models. Obviously purchasing the S60 is possible; the 2021 S60 has an MSRP of approximately $46,980.

One Volvo S60 owner gave the vehicle a glowing review. "I've had BMWs and Audis before but like the Volvo driving, transmission, and safety. This is my second S60," he wrote. "I would recommend it to absolutely everyone."

Mr. Farmer also said, "I have the opportunity to drive many high-quality cars due to my work. But time and again I come back to these Volvo sedans as my favorites. They are extremely well made and a pleasure to drive."

Other owners are very enthusiastic about the handling, reliability, and power of the S60. They also rated their experience at Danbury extremely highly. A customer signed LDS wrote that their purchase at Volvo Cars Danbury "...Was an absolutely wonderful experience. (The salesperson) gave us a great price, and she is so knowledgeable and personable and went over the top to accommodate our schedule. She spent a lot of time with me going over the features of the car on delivery. I would have to give her the absolute highest customer service rating. It is very rare to find a car salesperson like her. I give her my highest recommendation!"
