

The Brown Firm Now Offers the Services of Personal Injury Lawyers in Fayetteville

September 29, 2020

September 29, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Brown Firm is pleased to announce the opening of their new location in Fayetteville, Georgia. This means that those who were injured because of someone else's negligence can now get the help of a personal injury lawyer in Fayetteville in obtaining maximum compensation. The common personal injury cases handled by the firm include car accidents, motorcycle accidents, slip and falls, truck accidents, medical malpractice, pedestrian accidents, and wrongful death.

One aspect of The Brown Firm that really makes them stand out among other law firms is that Harry Brown Jr., DC, JD, is also a chiropractic care expert, being a licensed chiropractor. He, therefore, fully understands the extent of a client's injuries, which may help in ensuring that the client will be getting the maximum compensation possible.

Harry Brown Jr., DC, JD, the managing attorney at The Brown Firm, says, "Our Georgia personal injury attorneys in Fayetteville aggressively negotiate and litigate on behalf of our clients, pursuing their rights to maximum compensation for their injuries. We have an in-depth understanding of Georgia personal injury law, significant courtroom experience, and an unparalleled medical background. With The Brown Firm at your side, you can expect the personalized attention of a small firm with the financial backing to take on any case, no matter the scope."

The practice areas of The Brown Firm include car accidents, motorcycle accidents, truck accidents, slips and falls, work-related injuries, wrongful death, dog bites, bicycle accidents, and pedestrian accidents. Those who have been injured due to a car accident may be able to receive compensation from the at-fault party that will cover most or all of the expenses incurred due to the accident. Whatever the details of the accident, getting the help of a car accident lawyer at The Brown Firm can benefit the accident victim.

Meanwhile, motorcycle accidents often cause serious injuries that can have a lifelong impact on the victims. This is because a motorbike provides very little protection for the rider in case of a crash. By consulting with The Brown Firm, accident victims will gain complete access to the firm's motorcycle accident lawyers who are experienced and familiar with the legal system regarding motorcycle injuries and have a long experience in obtaining fair settlements from the at-fault driver's insurance firm. They also get access to some of the leading experts, including medical experts, accident reconstructionists, and interviewers, to help build a strong case against the at-fault party.

Truck accidents are another common practice area for The Brown Firm. This is an important area of practice because commercial trucks, such as tankers, big rigs, 18 wheelers, and tractor-trailers, can cause serious and lethal injuries. Because of this, there are strict government regulations that have to be followed by trucking companies, or else they could be held liable for property damage and injuries. Furthermore, trucking companies usually have lawyers who will look after their interests in case of a truck accident. Fortunately, Attorney Harry Brown Jr. DC, JD, is very familiar with the kinds of injuries that truck accidents can cause. He will apply his medical and legal knowledge and experience to fight for the client's right to compensation vigorously.

Slips and falls may be due to the negligence of the property owner, resulting in injuries where victims have to endure pain and suffering, medical care expenses, lost income, and emotional distress. There are certain conditions in a property that can cause slips and falls, such as: overly steep driveways or entryway; uneven or slippery sidewalks, pavement, stairs, or other walking surfaces; blocked aisles; poor lighting conditions; and poorly built or maintained objects.

The problem with slips and falls is that such cases can be complicated, which makes the help of a lawyer really necessary. Simply showing that a person has been injured may not be sufficient. There is a need to show that the property owner or manager was aware of the dangerous condition and had enough time to do something about it.

Those who are looking for a lawyer after personal injury accident in Fayetteville and surrounding areas may want to check out the website of The Brown Firm or contact them on the phone or through email.

Personal Injury cases in Georgia allow for a two-year statute of limitations that you can begin a lawsuit. Its important to contact an attorney as quickly as possible after an accident occurs so they can begin the investigation process for your case. There are many people who will wait to hire an attorney because they think they will owe extensive legal fees. While in some cases might be true, however it is not true for The Brown Firm. The Brown Firm operates on a contingency basis; this means we do not ask for any money up-front, we will fight diligently to win your case otherwise we do not get paid. When you receive a settlement, that's when our attorneys receive their compensation as well. Studies show that injured victims who are represented by a personal injury lawyer receive an average settlement more than three times higher than those who are not represented. Negotiating a settlement is a complicated process, consider an insurance adjusters full-time job is dealing with accidents and injury cases. He or she is backed by professional investigators, medical experts, vocational specialists, etc. The faster you speak with an experienced Personal Injury Attorney, the better chance you will have at receiving the maximum amount of compensation that you are owed for your losses. The lawyers at our firm will complete a thorough investigation into your accident, and if they need to, they will hire medical experts to review your injuries and medical records. It will be up to your attorney to handle all of the negotiations with the other persons insurance company. If for some reason an agreement cannot be met, your attorney will be prepared to take your case to trial. If the case does go to trial, it will then be up to a judge or jury to determine the amount of compensation that you should receive for your losses.",

"text": "Insurance companies will immediately begin calling persons involved in the accident to gather recorded statements. We advise our clients to not give recorded statements to the other insurance companies based on the fact that so many of these organizations will use these comments to directly influence the level of compensation awarded for injuries sustained. You should not be surprised by the fact that insurance companies typically do whatever they can to avoid paying out the appropriate amount of funds to individuals that are injured and entitled to payment. Insurers can use all types of tactics to minimize claims they are responsible for. When you attempt to file a claim for the injuries you have sustained, the settlement offer you will probably be given might be low. Sadly, insurance companies use this tactic because it is a way to influence people and some victims end up taking the offer without ever knowing their full legal rights. Personal injury attorneys know how the insurance claim process works, they know what evidence to gather, and they know how to calculate and present a claim for damages. Without expert legal counsel on your side it can be difficult to navigate how to handle insurance companies.",
