

White Duck Releases Regatta Mini ? A Small Companion for Big Adventures

September 30, 2020

September 30, 2020 -

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, it has become essential to maintain social distancing. This is applicable even if people are inside a camping tent. Keeping this in mind, White Duck Outdoors has launched a smaller model of the best selling Regatta bell tent, the Regatta Mini, that is light, water-repellent, breathable, accommodates two adults comfortably, and is made using 100% army duck cotton canvas, which is the ideal choice for canvas tents.

Salt Lake City, Utah: A top-quality tent is essential to enjoy camping with family and friends. Such a tent needs to be weather-proof, light, and durable. For most cases, the 10 foot, 13 foot and 16.5-foot Regatta Bell Tents are the right choices, given their versatility and spaciousness. Sometimes, however, there?s a need for a smaller, lighter option suitable for not just uses like bikepacking or quick trips, but also for social distancing and camping in small groups. The new Regatta Mini facilitates exactly this.

White Duck Outdoors is offering a Regatta Mini tent measuring 8 feet in diameter. It is made using White

Duck?s innovative DYNADUCK canvas, a lasting and breathable pure army duck cotton canvas that has been treated for being water, UV, and mildew repellent, with their proprietary Phoenix finish. The advantage of army duck cotton canvas is that it?s double-stitched, which ensures the tent is more durable than those manufactured with regular cotton canvas.

There is a mesh door apart from the traditional canvas door that one can tie back when not required. Both have a three-way zipper and a rain flap to prevent water from entering inside. Three big windows with zipper flap and mesh construction allow natural light and facilitate better ventilation. Even big roof vents with a hood and mesh build boost ventilation.

This super-durable tent also has a sewn-in PE groundsheet to make set up easier and quicker than before. It acts as a solid layer of defense that retains the tent in a tidy condition in any weather, stops condensation, and insulates against the cold ground.

Some more premium features that are included in every tent include a shock absorber grounding system, a light aluminum center pole, reflective ropes, and metal tension adjusters. The UV-resistant guy lines, metallic adjusters, and shock-absorber cord system keep the tent staked to ensure protection in heavy winds.

Right now, the tent is available on the official website. According to a spokesperson, ?At White Duck Outdoors, we understand the need for high-performance gear to withstand the outdoors, whatever the nature of your trip. For this reason, we make cotton canvas tents and other essentials in a way that?s safe, durable, and affordable. We also aim to ensure people of all experience levels can enjoy our products, and the Regatta Mini is a step towards achieving that goal.?
