

AC Repair Fresno CA Company Launches New Website

October 08, 2020

October 08, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Fresno AC Repair, an air-conditioning repair service based in Fresno, CA, is happy to announce the launch of their new website. They believed it was necessary to update their website to make sure that site visitors will be able to navigate easily and find what they are looking for and to make their site mobile responsive, which means that the site will be displayed properly on the screens of mobile gadgets like smartphones and tablets.

A spokesperson for Fresno AC Repair says, "We're happy to announce that we have just launched our new website. Our new site will make sure that visitors will find it easy look for the info that they're searching for. It is also mobile responsive, so you can browse our site using your smartphones or tablets."

He adds, "Whether you're seeking affordable repair service, reliable maintenance or the new unit installation, our skillful technicians are here to make the project a breeze. We proudly offer a range of products and services to restore affordable cooling and heating to your home."

The company is a local owned and operated HVAC company in Fresno and neighboring areas and is considered to be the expert when it comes to HVAC installation, maintenance, and repair. They offer a range of products and services to allow affordable heating and cooling for the home, such as: air conditioning systems, ductwork, air conditioning repair, forced air furnace installation, evaporative (swamp) coolers, heat pump, gravity furnaces, ductless systems, maintenance contracts, commercial AC installation, and heating and furnace repair.

The company spokesperson warns homeowners from allowing a "quick fix" for the air conditioner as it fails to consider the equipment and all of the possible alternatives. It may just turn out to be more costly in the long run because the equipment may require more repair services. The team of professionals from Fresno AC Repair will make sure that they will discuss all of the possible options with customers to help them make the right decision.

Fresno AC Repair is not just an air conditioning repair service company but they can also provide expert AC installation for both homes and businesses. They have been providing such service for more than 10 years. They will not only visit the clients' home to help them choose the best air conditioning system for their specific requirements, but they will also provide a free personalized AC installation quote. They are capable of offering the best prices for leading HVAC makes and models. Clients get only to pay just one flat-rate for air conditioner installation labor costs and there would be no surprise fees. They can also make use of affordable AC installation cost financing with approved credit.

Fresno AC Repair also offers reliable services and solutions for commercial HVAC systems. Examples of commercial HVAC services they can provide include: various options for split and package systems from top manufacturers; leasing and financing options; value engineering to optimize cost-efficiency and performance; specialized, multi-system remote control options for property managers; and custom designed commercial HVAC maintenance, inspection, filter change, and service contracts.

They also offer comprehensive duct cleaning services to get rid of dust and debris in both the AC system and ductwork to ensure hospital-quality air. This will allow the elimination of the unwanted smells of smoke, pets, and musty odor. This will also ensure that those with allergies will enjoy improved sleep.

The duct cleaning services will be composed of various tasks. These include: the removal, cleaning and reinstallation of all registers and grills; use of a high-pressure compressed air nozzle in each individual vent to loosen any interior debris/contaminants; cleaning of all supply and return using a high-efficiency vacuum cleaner; removal, cleaning and reinstallation of blower assembly; vacuuming and cleaning of the rest of the air handler/furnace; examination of evaporator coil for possible additional cleaning requirements; and optional systemwide duct sanitizing solution to minimize growth of microbial organisms.
