The Funeral Program Site, based in McKinney, Texas, has announced that people can celebrate breast cancer awareness month with personalized breast cancer ribbon pins imprinted with 3 lines of text for a custom memorial tribute. They want people to know that they have the widest variety of personalized ribbons in every color and cause. These ribbons are worn in the signature crisscross presentation on the lapel, for both men and women, to support and increase awareness about breast cancer.

Carole Galassi, the Creative Director at The Funeral Program Site, says, ?The Funeral Program Site specializes in the creation of memorial ribbons offered in every cause and color. We offer the best ribbon imprinting because we create our own designs! From our line of personalized in loving memory apparel collection of personalized double-faced satin awareness ribbons raise awareness for a worthy cause, cancer, organizations, or diseases. You can also choose to create your own ribbon for your personalized cause or memory.?

These memorial ribbons may be worn any day of the year. Breast cancer is the second most common cancer diagnosed in women in the United State. It is actually possible for breast cancer to also occur in men, but it is much more common in women. There has been significant support for research funding and increasing breast cancer awareness. This has resulted in various advances in the diagnosis and treatment of this kind of cancer. Survival rates have increased for breast cancer patients, and the number of deaths caused by breast cancer have been steadily decreasing, mostly due to factors like earlier detection, a better understanding of the disease, and a new personalized approach to the treatment of breast cancer.

Various cancer ribbons are available through The Funeral Program Site. These personalized double-faced satin awareness ribbons are used to raise awareness for cancer, a worthy cause, organizations, or diseases.

They can also be a great accent for the memorial service of a loved one.

Other memorial items are also available from The Funeral Program Site. These include memorial candles that are lighted in honor of the memory of a loved one during a memorial service, funeral ceremony, death anniversary, or at any time of the year. The memorial candle can be personalized with dates, names, and even a picture of the loved one who had passed away.

The Funeral Program Site is a popular provider of funeral announcement templates. They also offer casket head panel inserts that can fit inside the head panel of a funeral casket to offer a personalized presentation of the loved one who had passed away, using a photo and some personalized text.

They also provide ready-made do-it-yourself (DIY) templates for funeral programs. This template is a ready-made file that has filler text on a specific background. These templates provide a fast and easy way for the family of a departed loved one to produce a printed memorial without having to create it from scratch. This template can be edited using software and it may then be printed by The Funeral Program Site, or by the client on a home printer or at a local copy shop.

They offer a broad range of DIY, easy-to-use templates for funeral program, memorial bookmarks, cards, or announcements. They also have a variety of funeral related clip art and elegant word art that clients can choose from. All of the templates are sent to the client for immediate download so that the family can start editing the template as soon as possible.

In a previous press release, they have focused on their new inserts for casket panels. In addition to their well-known half couch casket panel insert, they have also made available full couch casket panel inserts that can be personalized using three lines of text and the loved one?s photo. Each personalize casket panel is custom-made on quality canvas material.
