October 09, 2020

MINNEAPOLIS, MN - October 09, 2020 -
The Key Guys, an award-winning auto locksmith services based in Minneapolis, MN, has announced that they serve various car key replacement needs in the Twin Cities, including the replacement of key fobs when they break or require repair. They offer various kinds of 24/7 car locksmith services and are the oldest such specialty service in Minnesota. Recently, they have achieved more than 500 reviews from happy customers. Over the years, they have occasionally published auto locksmith posts on their website blog to educate people with regards to car keys, but they spend most of their time focused on offering unsurpassed auto locksmith services.

The Key Guys are car key specialists and are also updated on new technology, such as the remote keyless system (RKS), which resulted in the increased use of key fobs. With the advances in technology, the job of the car locksmith is no longer confined to car key cutting. The auto locksmiths at The Key Guys are also able to upgrade and add features to the car key fob. With this technology also come new problems, such as key fobs that can be hacked and car thieves may be able to create an unauthorized duplicate. That is why the key experts at The Key Guys have kept themselves up-to-date regarding key fobs and other technology developments, and they have been posting articles on their blog to keep people informed regarding these developments.

Another important development in car key technology is the use of transponders. Most new car models now use car keys with transponder chips as a way to prevent car theft. With transponder keys, locksmiths do not only have to ensure that keys are cut to fit the locks and ignition. They have to be programmed such that they will respond correctly to deactivate the car?s immobilizer system and start the car. Transponder keys have a chip that produces a low-level signal that is detected by a receiver around the ignition cylinder. This is activated when the car key is turned. The car computer authenticates this signal to ensure that what is being used is the real key, thus substantially reducing the risk of car theft because the car will not start if it doesn?t get the correct response from the transponder key.

Meanwhile, The Key Guys have been providing auto locksmith services to the customers? satisfaction as evidenced by their more than 500 auto locksmith reviews that are mostly five-star reviews. For instance, in one of their most recent reviews, James H. gave them five stars and said, ?Fantastic service! Had Bryan from the key guys take care of two cars that the keys got lost on. It was also really awesome that they could communicate over text messaging which made communicating with them really easy, clear and efficient. I would highly recommend The Key Guys to anybody needing replacement car keys.?
