October 07, 2020 -

Plano, TX - A local mainstay in the community, Dr. Bobby Jivnani, DDS and his dental clinic in Plano were recently named on the "Best Dentists" list by D Magazine for 2020.

D Magazine is a local authority magazine on all things Dallas community related. The October issue publishes the best-of list for Dental in the Dallas region annually.

According to D Magazine, the publication has a rigorous procedure for the selection of the dentists who win the designation stating, "D Magazine's confidential poll is sent to around 3,000 local dentists, asking them to recommend their peers in each specialty. We make the ballot available online at dmagazine.com, and only dentists with valid dental licenses are eligible. An esteemed panel of dentists, representing a range of specialties, review the final list. Once the list is finalized, we investigate disciplinary status and vet each winner's dental license. Then we turn the list over to our sales team. They cannot add to or subtract from the list, but they can sell ads to the winners. A special advertising section containing the winners who purchase ads is then put together and displayed somewhere else in the magazine. If you have a dentist you like and trust, and his or her name is not on this list, we recommend you stick with your D.D.S. You may see his or her name on the next list of Best Dentists in Dallas."

Dr. Jivnani has been practicing general dentistry, oral surgery, and cosmetic dentistry in the Plano and Richardson, Texas area for nearly two decades. He prides himself in having built a practice that accommodates each and every need of the family from the youngest to the oldest member. This is possible because, rather than limiting his practice to just one area of dental, he has been able to build a one-stop approach that offers specialties that other dentists often have to refer patients out for. Examples include restorative dental, dentures, prosthodontics, Invisalign orthodontics, surgery, and laser dentistry.
