October 12, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Glen Allen, VA-based New Medical Spa: Teresa Camden MD, FACSM is pleased to invite their community to make use of the beauty clinic's PDO Thread Lift treatments. Led by Dr. Teresa Camden, the staff at New Medical Spa make it their mission to help both men and women bring their inner beauty to the fore and bask in the sensation of feeling their best at the same time. They offer a great many treatments in pursuit of this goal, and they are always ready to welcome newcomers who want to take their first steps into the world of holistic beauty.

The clinic is eager to bring the PDO Thread Lift procedure deeper into the spotlight due to its minimally invasive nature and the incredible results it is known to achieve. By stimulating collagen production, it can lift and tighten sagging skin tissue, and innovations in this field have brought the procedure to such a high standard that it can be used where surgical options may not be considered reasonable. They are also considered an effective alternative to fillers, demonstrating advantages where the latter is known to be relatively weak.

PDO stands for polydioxanone, the substance that the treatment's threads are made out of. These subtle, absorbable threads are implanted into the subcutaneous layer of the skin using small needles. Their function is to cause micro-injuries that stimulate both collagen synthesis and tissue contraction. Notably, however, these threads do not need to be removed at a later date ? they are absorbed into the body by natural means within six months, leaving only new collagen in their wake. This point is where the lifting effect is most pronounced, but the effect will actually last between 2-3 years. PDO Thread Lift treatments can be used on the cheeks, brow, jawline, neck, nasolabial folds, marionette lines, arms, thighs and abdomen. Dr. Camden observes that patients who are wary of surgical options tend to prefer this method, especially since the average recovery period is only around three days.

Patient comments regarding the practice paint an exceedingly positive picture of their services, with Aliyah Adams' recent review on their Google Maps listing stating that, "Dr. Camden is amazing with communicating professionally exactly what is needed for each individual. Every appointment is detail orientated and super informative! I love my results every time I leave whether it is the laser, or injectables!" This 5-Star Google review is hardly the only glowing piece of feedback they have received, however.

A more detailed review goes over the experience Laura Eaheart had with the clinic. Eaheart points out several of the clinic's strengths in her comments, reflecting that she is, "Super pleased with results and service! I have to first say that Dr. Camden is very professional, but also possesses the most amazing personality, particularly for someone with her credentials."

While this patient initially came on board with New Medical Spa for their B12 shots, she explains that Dr. Camden encouraged her to try the clinic's Erbium Laser Treatment as well. This treatment, which is designed to correct both surface-level and moderately-deep lines and wrinkles, had to be administered only three times before Eaheart found a drastic improvement in her skin's appearance and texture. According to Dr. Camden, one of the biggest advantages of this treatment over an alternative (such as CO2 laser resurfacing) is that it has fewer side effects. With less swelling and bruising, for instance, patients need to endure a much shorter period of recovery.

Such attention to detail is a cornerstone of the services offered at New Medical Spa, and Dr. Camden and her staff place a heavy priority on ensuring their patients are always comfortable with their procedures. This extends to the consultations that take place prior to any treatment as well, since Dr. Camden strongly believes every patient has the right to know exactly what any procedure consists of and what possible side effects may come with them.

"It is easy to tell you everything you stand to gain when you undergo any procedure, but we find it necessary to understand every possible outcome before you agree to anything," says Dr. Camden. "Talk to us, bring any questions or concerns you have, and we will answer them all to the best of our ability. Our expertise will always be at your disposal."

Patients may reach out to Dr. Teresa Camden for further details or contact the clinic to schedule their next appointment. Additionally, the clinic's website offers a deeper explanation of PDO Thread Lift treatments as well as their other procedures. Similarly, patients are welcome to connect with the clinic through their Facebook page to stay abreast of their latest news and offers.
