October 14, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Water is one of the most common reasons for damage to a home or business. Water will leave stains, damage the structure of the property it is affecting, and encourages mold growth. This makes unsafe living conditions because the building is not stable and the air is not healthy to breathe. Fast & Fair Water Damage Restoration will completely repair any water damage, sanitizing the area, and preventing any future mold growth.

The company has a very reliable three step program that guarantees the most reliable restorations and long lasting mold protection far into the future. "This process help us to be one of the leading water damage solutions companies in the area, but it also allows us to work efficiently without sacrificing quality. We want our customers to have a great experience and we treat their property like we would our own," the manager stated recently.

The first step of the process is to assess the damage. Their team of technicians will go to the damaged area and will thoroughly assess the damage. They will then create a plan to successfully restore and sanitize the area to return it back to pre-disaster condition and prevent future mold growth. Their team uses the most high tech equipment and updated techniques in order to perform the restoration in the quickest and most affordable way possible.

Next, they will do mitigation. "Our techs that are on-site will remove and dry any water in the building. We use industrial fans and professional grade dehumidifiers and we have dryers for hardwood floors and subfloors," an employee told us. "Then we do a complete sanitization procedure and decontaminate everything in order to prevent mold growth."

Finally, they will start the restoration process. Once the area is free of any water and mold, they will begin restoring the area back to pre-disaster conditions. They use the highest quality materials and never cut corners when performing restorations so that the home's owner or business owner will be satisfied with the work. When complete with repairs, they will do one last examination of the property to make sure there will be no future water damage or mold growth.

Fast & Fair Water Damage Restoration offers the residents of Commerce City the most reliable, affordable, and quickest water damage solutions in the area. They also offer mold remediation, fire and smoke repair, as well as storm damage cleanup.
