Georgia Escape Room Launches New Website

October 22, 2020 -
Urban Escape Games, based in Alpharetta, GA, is proud to announce the launch of their new website. In order to complete the launch, two previously existing websites were combined to form the newly released site. Escape Rooms, which are also called Puzzle Rooms or Escape Games, are a form of real-life gaming where players are placed in a room, given a mission and then have 60 minutes to solve the puzzles within to find their way out.

Real-life escape rooms are a relatively new concept, and the company opened the first Escape Game Company in Georgia. All of the games are designed by their in-house team, with spacious rooms and incredibly immersive set design and technology.

If one has a large team or party, the company will host the group in one of their spacious briefing rooms where there is ample seating for everyone. After a briefing, the team will enter one of the themed game spaces, where they will watch a video to immerse everyone into the storyline. Then, the countdown clock starts, and the entire team will have one hour to find clues, solve puzzles, crack codes and investigate their surroundings to make it out in time.

Teamwork and communication are critical here, according to the company. One could say that this is a perfect activity for friends, families, co-workers, couples and so on, and it is also great for meeting new people. Urban Escape Games describes it as the most action-packed hour in Atlanta. All are welcome to put their skills to the test and unlock their true potential. One may check the company?s Facebook page for more information about their escape room packages.

To quote the company?s website, ?Being locked in a room with strangers during a pandemic can seem very daunting to the majority of us. Luckily, here at Urban Escape Games, all games are private for our groups, and we are sanitizing between games. If you?re ready to get out and do something with family, playing an Escape Game is the perfect idea! With only you and your group, you can solve our puzzles and clues to escape within the timeframe ? or at least close to it.? Given the nature of the pandemic, the company would like to reiterate to their existing and potential clientele that they will only be booking small groups and adhering to local and state health guidelines.

Urban Escape Games boasts several themed experiences. The Cells package will have the group discovering the secrets behind the weird facility in the massive room at the site. The company also has two competitive pirate-themed rooms where the groups will be hunting for treasure. In The Little Candy Shop of Horrors, the group will have to work their way through all the resident villain?s tricks in what the company calls their hardest challenge. Urban Escape Games also has a conference room, suitable for events and parties, which allows a party to watch over their teamwork together. Audio and video monitoring facilities are also available. The company also offers an escape room package for children between the ages of 5 and 11, designed as a hunt for hidden treasure.

The company has gained a substantial following, thanks to their creative and attentive services. One visitor on TripAdvisor states that they, ?Really like this escape room location. We've gone with the whole family. This is my favorite location of all the escape rooms I've done. Our kids range from 5 to 12, and everyone loves it. We've now done all but two rooms at this location and like both the staff and rooms. They've put a lot of thought into designing the rooms so they are fun and engaging. This last time we did the fort, and I highly recommend that room.? One may also read more reviews on Trip Advisor to gain a better understanding of the packages available and to see other client perspectives.

In order to book an escape room package or to learn more about available options, one may visit the company website and social media pages. One may also call or email the company directly for any further inquiries.
